Infantrymen, Civilians In Stiff Border Fight

2 Companies Engage Reds In Highlands

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A combined force of U.S. infantrymen and Vietnamese civilian irregulars clashed for eight hours with North Vietnamese regulars near the Cambodian border Saturday and suffered moderate casualties, U.S. military spokesmen said Sunday.

The fight broke out near the Plei Djereng Special Forces camp, 230 miles north of Saigon, when two companies of the U.S. 25th Infantry Division were sent in to reinforce the Vietnamese troops, the spokesmen said.

The two U.S. companies — about 350 men — reported killing seven enemy troops and capturing one in the central highlands battle. A U.S. Army helicopter was shot down by ground fire but there were no casualties, spokesmen added.

In other action, B52 bombers struck again Saturday afternoon at suspected Viet Cong troop concentrations in Tay Ninh Province 60 miles northwest of Saigon.

U.S. air strikes over North Viet Nam were hampered for a 10th straight day by bad weather Saturday and pilots concentrated mostly on coastal targets.

U.S. headquarters reported an accidental mortar shelling which wounded a Vietnamese civilian and set a house afire Saturday night. A spokesman said a unit of the U.S. 1st Infantry Division fired an 81mm mortar round which fell short of its target and landed near Phu Cuong village 13 miles northwest of Saigon.

South Vietnamese troops killed 73 Viet Cong in two clashes Saturday in the Mekong Delta, Vietnamese headquarters said.

A transfer of eight high officers Saturday shook up South Viet Nam's regular armed forces, which are turning increasingly from combat to pacification work under their numerical eclipse by American military might in Viet Nam.

The biggest switch was a shift in the command of the 4th Corps area and its rice-rich, guerrilla-infested Mekong delta, a state-mated theater of war where relatively few of the 358,000 U.S. servicemen in the country have been assigned.

Lt. Gen. Dang Van Quang, who has been quoted as opposing the use of American infantry in the delta, gave up the 4th Corps for a Cabinet job in Saigon — a newly created Ministry of Planning and Development. Brig. Gen. Van Manh succeeded him. Manh has commanded the Vietnamese 25th Division. American officials declined comment.

The Zone C fighting, punctuated by two more saturation bombings from Guam-based B52 jets, developed north of the city of Tay Ninh, 65 miles northwest of Saigon.

11 Enemy Killed
A mechanized company of the 25th Division shot up a Viet Cong squad. A spokesman said 11 guerrillas had been killed, while the Americans suffered no casualties.

A mile away another mechanized company engaged an entrenched platoon of about 30 men in a clash that continued into the night.

The armored troops are among 30,000 Americans trying in Operation Attleboro, launched Oct. 15, to wipe out the Viet Cong's 9th Division, originally estimated at 6,000 men.

Spokesmen said the Americans had counted 1,064 enemy dead. There was no estimate of the wounded, ordinarily three or four times greater than the number killed in combat. Though some American units have been hit hard, overall losses are called light.

Grain Rice Cache
Inventories of arms and other booty seized and damage wrought in the sweep over nine base camps and other enemy holdings were set forth by the U.S. command in a two-page list. The haul of enemy rice, 2,366 tons, was the largest of the war.

Briefing officers reported on other facets of the war: The U.S. destroyers Hammer and John R. Craig shelled a Communist island radar site two miles north of the border, setting several fires. Then they attacked a dozen North Vietnamese cargo boats, destroying three and heavily damaging three others.

Vietnamese authorities charged that 50 Cambodian troops had raided the farming community of Thanh Tri, 500 yards inside the frontier, kidnapped a civilian, stolen 14 cattle and withdrawn into Cambodia after a short fight with militia. Cambodia, which claims to be neutral, often has accused American and South Vietnamese forces of attacking its border settlements.

LOS ANGELES: Barry Goldwater tells an audience that his long-time political foe, Harry S. Truman, would be remembered as one of the "truly great" Presidents, here Thursday. Goldwater spoke to the Radio and TV News Association of Southern California and used Truman as an example of how an individual with no experience for the job but with a sense of public duty could train himself for public office. Goldwater also predicted that the GOP could furnish a candidate in 1968 who can give LBJ "a sound race."

Report 9 Aboard Bomber Were Killed Instantly

HAYWARD, Wis. (AP)—There is no possibility any of the nine airmen aboard a B52 Strategic Air Command bomber survived the apparent explosion and crash into remote woods.

That was the conclusion late Saturday of Col. Fred Sherman, head of an investigating board and vice commander of the 410th Bomb Wing at K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base, Mich.

Witnesses said the eight-engine aircraft appeared to explode in flight Friday evening before disintegrating as it slammed into timber four miles from the nearest road in northwestern Wisconsin.

On Training Flight
The huge aircraft was on a training mission for the 2nd Bomb Wing at Barksdale AFB, La., and was commanded by Capt. Curtis E. Robertson, Schuyler, Va.

Sherman said there was no indication any of the men aboard had a chance to parachute from the plane. Bits of debris were strewn over an area about one mile in length, a spokesman said.

He added that there was no association with a refueling operation that took place quite a while prior to the crash. The Air Force declined to say what the interval was.

The Sawyer base is the closest SAC field to the crash site. A team of investigators from there was transported by helicopter out of search headquarters at Duluth AFB, Minn. The crash site is some 90 miles southeast of Duluth.

No Weapons Aboard
SAC spokesmen at Barksdale said there were no nuclear arms or weapons of any kind on board the bomber.

Associated Press photographer Bob Walsh said after flying over the crash site, "There was nothing left. I didn't see anything moving in the area."

Newsmen were denied access to the crash area by military and civilian authorities.

The crash cleared a football-shaped area through several hundred yards of timber in the remote, frozen terrain where temperatures dipped to 11 degrees Friday night.

Roger Langham, Wisconsin Conservation Department employee, said:

"I happened to be looking right at it when it crashed. There was a terrific explosion."

Langham and several hunting friends made their way to the scene.

View Possible Affects Of End To Meatless Ban

NEW YORK (AP) — The lifting of the Friday meat ban for Roman Catholics in the United States has met with widely varied response in the fish industry and in Catholic households.

Some executives in the fish industry expect a drop in sales. An Associated Press survey showed. But estimates of the amount of the drop varied from 10 to 30 per cent, and many said it would be only temporary.

A survey of Catholic laymen showed that while many seemed happy about the ban being lifted as of Dec. 2, many planned to continue eating fish on Friday.

Some comments:
"Fish is not going out of style," J. Richard Childs, president of a Syracuse, N.Y., food business.

"Ninety per cent of the fish sales to the public is done on Thursday and Friday. I expect it will produce a drop in business of about 30 per cent." Eugene Rolari, executive in a Bridgeport, Conn., seafood distributing company.

"It is a long time since the seafood industry of the United States depended upon the observance of religious duties for its welfare," Spokesman for the National Fisheries Institute.

"I think even more important to Catholics is a decision on birth control. Eating meat on Friday is not what they're worried about," Bill Rutherford, North Little Rock, Ark.

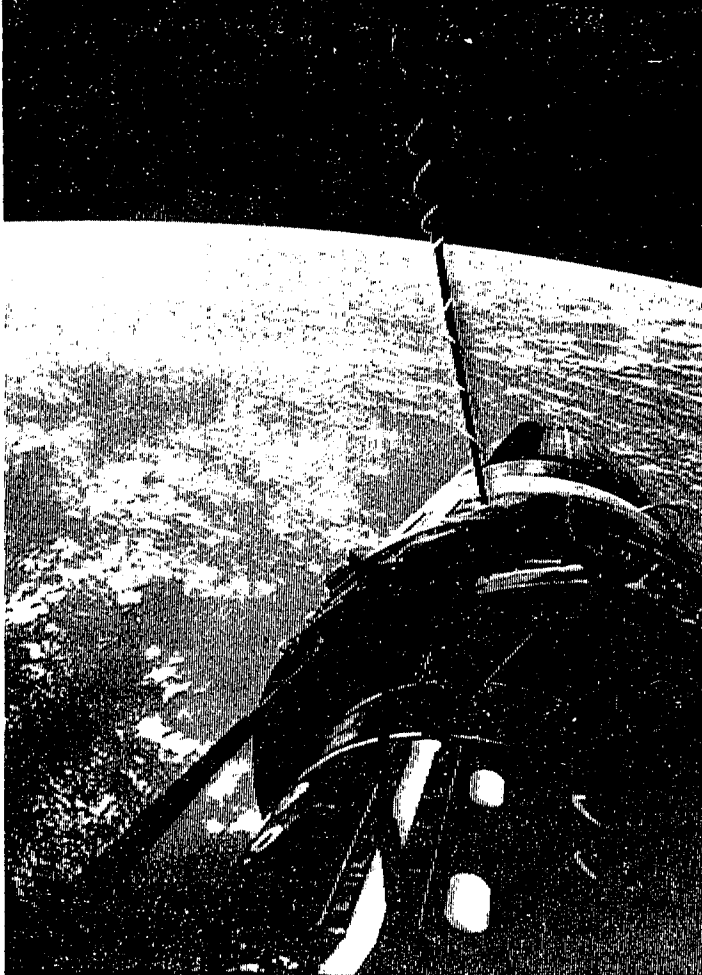

HANOI REPORTEDLY READY FOR TALKS IF RAIDS STOPPED

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., quoted Polish officials Saturday night as having said they believed Hanoi would agree to negotiate for peace in Viet Nam if the United States again stopped bombing North Viet Nam.

"Their general view is that if we stop the third time, the North Vietnamese would agree (to negotiate)," Clark said. "They believe it would happen, but they have no concrete facts on which to base their belief."

Clark said this to newsmen after nearly three days of Warsaw conferences.

The only known Polish approach to Hanoi about possible peace negotiations came last January, during the second of two bombing pauses. A Polish envoy, Ambassador Jerzy Michalowski, made a secret trip to Peking and Hanoi, which brought no results.

German Rightists Predict Victories

MUNICH, Germany (AP) — The rightist National Democratic party predicted Saturday it would win 8 to 10 seats in Sunday's Bavarian state legislative election. Such a result would touch off a new wave of concern at home and abroad that neo-Nazism was on the rise.

Party leaders, though preaching a nationalist line with Nazi echoes, have denied allegations that the party was a Nazi successor organization. No secret has been made, however, of the former Nazis in party ranks.

The Bavarian election comes just two weeks after the National Democrats showed surprising strength in the Hesse state election, polling 7.9 per cent of the vote and winning its first seats in a state legislature.

Claim 7 Per Cent of Vote
Adolf von Thadden, the party's deputy national chairman, told a newsmen the party was confident of winning 6 to 7 per cent of the total Bavarian vote and of clearing the 10 per cent hurdle in two of Bavaria's seven election districts. The rightists are expected to gain chiefly of the expense of the smaller parties in Bavaria.

Under Bavaria's complicated election system, a party must obtain 10 per cent of the vote in at least one district to be represented in the legislature.

The National Democratic party is expected to run well in Nuerenberg, once a Nazi citadel, and Bayreuth, home of Hitler's favorite composer, Richard Wagner.

The election in Bavaria, West Germany's largest state in area and second in population, will gauge how much popularity the national government in crisis-torn Bonn.

6.8 Million Voters
Polls will be open in Bavaria from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m., with 6.8 million persons eligible to vote. They will be choosing 204 members of the legislature from among 920 candidates.

Going into the election, the Christian Social Union was in firm control of the legislature with 110 seats. The Socialists have 79, the Free Democrats 10, and the Bavarian party 5.

The Christian Social Union is the Bavarian wing of Chancellor Ludwig Erhard's Christian Democratic party, and its chairman is ex-Defense Minister Franz Josef Strauss.

Strauss himself is not a candidate, but a setback to his party could weaken his influence in Bonn.

He gained a reputation as a kingmaker when ex-Nazi Kurt Georg Kiesinger was picked by the Christian Democrats as

Czechs Veto US Demand In Spy Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — A U.S. demand for prompt access to an imprisoned travel agent charged with espionage was denied Saturday by Communist Czechoslovakia.

A U.S. crackdown on travel between the two countries is under consideration.

The Czech action was announced by the State Department in the latest development of the case of Vladimir J. Kazan-Komarek, against whom the Czech government has made accusations tracing back to some of the worst days of the cold war in Europe.

The Czech-born American citizen was seized by police Oct. 31 when he was flying from Moscow to Paris made an unscheduled stop at Prague. The Russians insist it was an emergency landing, but U.S. officials suspect it was part of a plot for Kazan-Komarek's arrest.

The United States has pressed through the Czech Embassy here and the Foreign Office in Prague for immediate access to Kazan-Komarek. The Czechs denied Saturday the right of access "pending completion of further investigation of the case," the State Department reported.

Officials here said about 30,000 Americans go to Czechoslovakia each year. This is one possible point of retaliatory pressure. Another is travel by Czech officials or other citizens to the United States. The two countries also have been developing trade which now amounts to about $60 million a year — $30 million in each direction.

More Flooding Feared In Po River Delta Area

ROME, Italy (AP)—Calm weather returned to the storm-battered Po River delta and other parts of northeastern Italy on Saturday, but heavy rains brought the threat of floods to the extreme south.

A bright sun and moderate temperatures favored evacuation and dike repair work in the delta, where two days of gales, rain and high Adriatic tides had torn away coastal defenses weakened by Italy's most extensive flood disaster two weeks ago.

Sunny skies also lit up the debris-strewn Dolomite Mountain valleys northwest of the delta. But at Cosenza near the toe of the Italian peninsula more than 40 hours of uninterrupted rain swelled rivers and flooded highways. Snowstorms whipped around the peaks of the southern Apennines.

The south had been spared the ruin of the Nov. 4 floods that devastated wide areas of north and central Italy.

Large areas of land in the delta were under salt water, transforming the once fertile area into a lagoon that rose and fell with the tides of the Adriatic.

Soldiers and firemen have evacuated 10,000 delta residents by boat and truck.

IKE RESTING UP FOR GOLF VACATION

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower rested with friends Saturday before putting in a round of golf under a bright sun at his favorite golf course.

Eisenhower, expected to leave here Sunday, opened his 44th visit Thursday at the Augusta National Golf Course.

The last time the former president made a visit here he suffered a heart attack.

Bishops Urge Equality In Housing, Education

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. Roman Catholic bishops, in a major pronouncement on race relations, called Saturday night for dropping the bars that keep Negroes from living in many of the nation's expanding suburbs.

Urgently they recommended "a true sense of neighborliness, based upon a religiously inspired conviction that all men are equal before God and that all should be welcomed in our midst."

The bishops also called for stepped-up attacks on poverty and on inadequate education, and for strong implementation of laws against racial discrimination and against denial of the vote.

This was one of the pronouncements drafted at this week's path-breaking session of the newly named and reorganized National Conference of Catholic Bishops.

At a news conference Friday night, bishops speaking for the conclave noted that J. Francis Cardinal McIntyre of Los Angeles — scene of the bloody Watts riots — had moved the adoption of the "splendid statement" and had called for its endorsement "most cordially."

It was approved unanimously by the more than 200 bishops present. The statement advised an end of sloganizing. It did not mention any specific slogan, such as the "black power" cry of some Negroes or the "your home is your castle, protect it" motto with which George P. Mahoney vainly sought the governorship of Maryland.

"We note with sorrow," the statement said, "that civil strife is an ever-present danger. There have been riots in our cities. Racial antagonism has been fostered under many emotionally charged and irrational slogans. Moreover, we are still confronted with the depressing problems of poverty, joblessness, and urban and rural slums."

Avoid Housing Bill
On the score of housing, the bishops made no mention of the open housing legislation, which was lost in the recent session of Congress.

But they said: "As our nation becomes increasingly suburban, industry and service occupations are expanding far more rapidly in the suburbs than our inner cities. We cannot hope to solve the problem of joblessness in our cities if men and women are denied the oppor-

Say U.S. Troops Aiding Thailand

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP)—U.S. helicopters and advisers—without getting involved in actual fighting—are helping Thai government units battle Communist forces operating within Thailand, reliable informants said Saturday.

The informants indicated that U.S. support to the Thai counterinsurgency forces had been going on for some time. They added that there were Americans in the field serving as battalion advisers. The informants added these advisers sometimes went out on operations with the Thai battalions chasing the roving Communist bands notably active in the country's underdeveloped northeast.

The advisers serve with the Thai army, navy, air force and police. Their number however, is not known.

Also, the informants said, a group of 365 U.S. Special Forces — Green Berets — arrived in Thailand nearly a month ago and are now headquartered at Lop Buri, 75 miles north of here. Their mission, the informants explained, is to train the Thai regional and border police as well as the army on counterinsurgency tactics.

"Do Airlifting"
The sources said American-piloted helicopter companies based at Udorn and Nakhon Phanom were airlifting Thai counterinsurgency units to operational zones to fight the Communists.

Admit Viet Teachers Were Fired

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army confirmed Saturday it had ordered two South Vietnamese citizens fired from language-teaching jobs at Ft. Bragg, N.C., in a case sources said apparently involved either international politics or international security.

An attorney for one of the Vietnamese described the firing as a colossal blunder and charged that the Army was acting under orders from South Vietnamese Premier Nguyen Cao Ky when it dismissed Col. Nguyen Khuong and Mrs. Phan Loc Thao.

"Differ With Ky"
Attorney David Carlner, a national board member of the American Civil Liberties Union, said both Khuong and Mrs. Thao — while strong anti-Communists — did not agree with all of Ky's political views but had not engaged in any political action against the regime. Carlner represents Khuong.

Both now are facing deportation to Viet Nam and believe, said Carlner, they either will be jailed or murdered if they are returned.

The Army initially described Khuong and Mrs. Thao as security risks when it told them to leave their jobs several weeks ago at a special warfare language school at the North Carolina military base. The firings were not made public.

Say Risk Involved
In a statement Saturday, the Army said the dismissals had been ordered because Khuong's and Mrs. Thao's "continued employment was not in the best

Pleas By Mother Of Seriously Ill Child Are Heard

CARPENTERSVILLE, Ill. (AP)—A mother's fight for her hopelessly stricken baby rallied the forces of medicine Saturday and generated a slim ray of hope.

The child is Joseph Donald Kaczmarek, 4 months old, the third baby of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Kaczmarek to develop a rare congenital muscle disease which usually is fatal. The two other Kaczmarek babies died.

The disease which has begun to waste Joseph is amyotonia congenita, sometimes known as Oppenheim's disease.

When the symptoms appeared, Mrs. Kaczmarek said, "I knew that this time, something had to be done. Perhaps my baby can't be saved. But now I feel he's living for something."

The desperate heartbreak of being told for the third time that there was nothing that could be done prompted Mrs. Kaczmarek to seek help through the news media.

Saturday, the result of widespread interest in the case, arrangements were made for the baby's treatment at the National Health Institute clinic, Bethesda, Md.

News stories about the baby's plight attracted the interest of a number of doctors. But they also brought to light several slights.

LBJ Leaves Hospital

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson flew home to Texas on Saturday and found the sunshine his doctors have recommended for his recuperation from his twin operations on Wednesday.

Despite scattered clouds, there was a bright sun and 78-degree temperature as Johnson's big jet touched down at Bergstrom Air Force Base here.

Johnson, first off the plane, walked down the ramp with no apparent distress from his incisional hernia operation.

1½ Month Rest
The President plans to spend most of the time from now until the first of the year at his LBJ Ranch near Johnson City. While full recovery from his surgery of last Wednesday will be a main concern he expects to get in considerable work, too.

Foremost among the tasks he faces is preparation of the budget for fiscal 1968 starting next July 1—and along with it a decision on whether he must ask an income tax increase to help meet the mounting costs of the Viet Nam war.

Another major job will be preparation of his State-of-the-Union message which goes to the new, 90th Congress shortly after it convenes Jan. 10.

This will be viewed with special interest this time because it will blueprint what the President expects—or hopes—to get in the way of legislation from the new Congress in which Republicans hold a much more substantial minority position in the House.

Greeted by Crowd
A larger-than-usual crowd, including civil and military dignitaries, was on hand to welcome Johnson back to Texas.

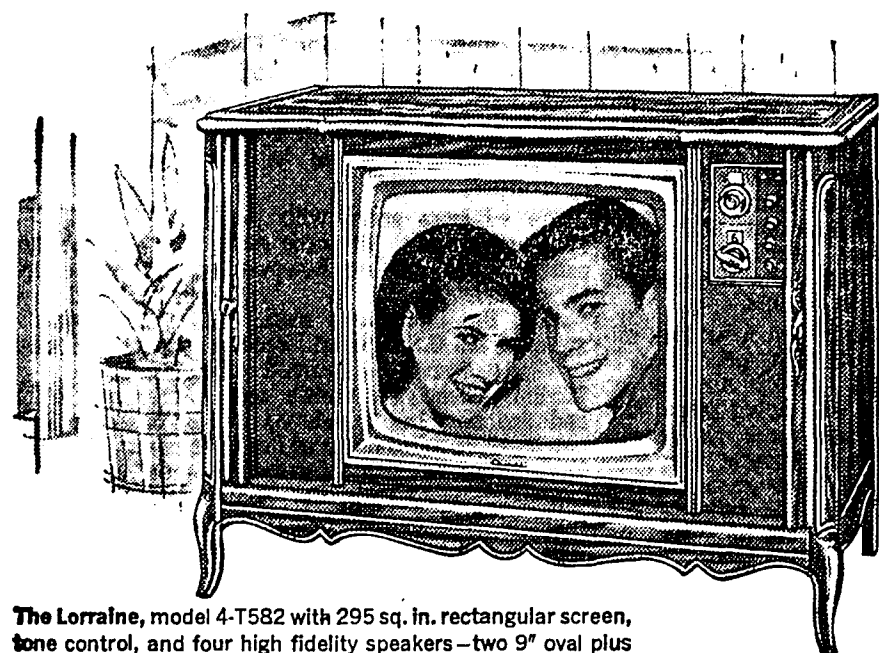

Johnson, accompanied by Mrs. Johnson, walked from the plane to shake hands with dozens of the several hundred people who were kept behind a chain wire fence.

From the air base, Johnson boarded a smaller plane for the flight of about 60 miles to the LBJ Ranch near Johnson City. Johnson told well-wishers that he's feeling fine.

ROODHOUSE — The Roodhouse City Council met Monday night with all members present except Alderman Eugene Masters and Dr. N. J. Bucklin.

The council authorized Mayor Ray Prather to enter into a revised contract for the city with Earl Bacon for his land to be used for the dump ground. Action on a bid for closing the old dump ground was tabled until further notice.

Mrs. Verna B. Taylor, Roodhouse, 20th district Veteran's Service chairman, reports that women from the Virginia club were hostesses, Wednesday, Nov. 16, at a 20th District Illinois Federation of Woman's Clubs Veterans' Service party for Ward 7 at the Jacksonville State Hospital.

Refreshments of cookies and coffee were served by the following ladies who represent the Virginia club: Joan Landolt, Bernice Thompson, Mary Gill, Zella Medford, Catherine Huffman.

Major Willis W. Roper, wife, and children, Lawton, Okla., have been visiting his mother, Mrs. Eliza Roper, Roodhouse, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Fullerton, White Hall, as well as others in the area.

They were called here by the death of her grandfather, Charles Sackett, Carrollton. Funeral services were held there, Sunday. The Roper family returned home, Tuesday.

Phillip Ballard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ward K. Ballard, was recently elected a member of Blue Key which is a national honorary society for senior men and a few selected juniors at Illinois Wesleyan University, Bloomington.

To be selected to Blue Key, a student must be in the upper half of his class and prove himself in at least one of the following areas: scholarship, activities, athletics, fine arts or religious activities. The honorary society was founded on Wesleyan's campus in 1943.

Phil is a senior biology major.

THE KNIGHTS TEMPLAR

have been known for generations for their charity, hospitality and devotion to Christianity.
 The Order today is a body of Christian Masons who rejoice at the celebration of Christ's birth.
 It is, therefore, typical that they should extend their hospitality at Christmastime to the good people of this area to join in an old-world, traditional feast of the Season, an

DANNY SHUTT, 19-year-old Jacksonville young man charged with arson in six fires and one attempted fire, is shown during the Sept. 20 Routt high school fire. Shutt returned to the fire scene and helped firemen pull hose into the burning interior of the building. He also aided firemen in fighting the Baptist church fire last Wednesday evening. Shutt is shown inside the white circle in lower left. The defendant has been charged with arson and is in the county jail under $30,000 bond. Evidence in the series of fires will be presented to a grand jury this week.

HOW'S YOUR NOSE FOR NEWS?

A big news story broke recently in each of the spots marked on the map below.
 As a reader or student, check your memory and your knowledge by identifying the news events.
 The clues given in the box below will help.

AMBUCS Gift To JAARC

The Jacksonville Area Association for Retarded Children at its meeting Nov. 10 at the health department received a check for $400 from the American Business Men's Club to aid in the support of Pathway School.

Mrs. J. J. Smith, president, is shown accepting the check from Ned Jackson, representing the AMBUCS. Other AMBUCS guests at the meeting were Milton Kuklies, Francis Ritchey and Harold Twyford. Mrs. Smith thanked the AMBUCS for the check, a tape recorder which they presented at the last board meeting, and for the Halloween party they sponsored recently for Pathway students.

Program chairman Mrs. Dean Langer introduced Mrs. Wanda Sexton, R. N. from the State Hospital who will help with programs, and Mrs. Robert Rooker, director, presented Mrs. Carrie Mackness, retired ISD teacher, and Mrs. Ruth Dawson, R. N. with Morgan Health Department. Mrs. Mackness volunteered two mornings a week for speech work at the school, and Mrs. Dawson visits the school once a week to set up necessary clinical visits and keep medical records up to date.

Donations to the school were announced by Mrs. James Coulas, treasurer: $1,626.00, proceeds from the Morgan County Saddle Club Horse Show; Newcomers Alumni, $50.00; and $17.00 from the Morgan Feed Dealers of Waverly for the purchase of records for the school.

The program was a report of Pathway School. Mrs. Rooker stated five new students have been enrolled bringing enrollment up to 16. The teaching staff has been increased to three teachers and one assistant. Mrs. Albert Andrews teaches the pre-school class. Mrs. Rooker the primary class and Mrs. L. E. Perry teaches the intermediate class.

Each teacher explained her duties and techniques used in the class. A tape was played showing the work being done with the children in speech by Mrs. Mackness.

Dr. Herr has set aside December 1st as free dental check-up day for all Pathway students this year.

Mrs. Rooker reported that Mrs. Kenneth Book, school psychologist and Frank Harris, school social worker, meet for staff meetings each Tuesday noon. The teaching staff meets with William Walsh, school counselor, the first Thursday evening of each month.

Pathway held its first Parent-Teacher session Tuesday morning Oct. 25th for the pre-school class parents. Similar meetings are being planned for the parents of the other classes. This year Pathway enrolled a blind child, a crippled child, and a child from the Negro race. The school's first brochure was shown to the group for approval.

Coffee was served during the social hour at the close of the meeting.

Board members are reminded of the Executive Council meeting Monday November 21.

FORMER ROODHOUSE MAN IN VIET

ROODHOUSE — Marine Private Jerry B. Alexander, who was reared in the home of his grandmother, Mrs. Agnes Ma-berry of rural Roodhouse, is a member of the second battalion, Seventh Marine Regiment, in Viet Nam.

The battalion is engaged in search and destroy missions against the enemy and a determined effort to win the people to the side of the legitimate government of South Viet Nam.

Mr. and Mrs. James Bartlett, rural Roodhouse, entertained with a dinner held at their home, Thursday night, celebrating the birthday anniversary of their cousin, Roy Blackburn. A dinner, complete with birthday cake, was served by the Bartletts. Others present included Mrs. Blackburn and Chester Day, rural Manchester.

RUSHVILLE UNIT AT BAXTER HOME

RUSHVILLE — The Rushville Day Homemakers Extension Unit met Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Herman Baxter with 17 members answering the roll call of "How I Relieve Tension." Mrs. Charles Houser, chairman presided.

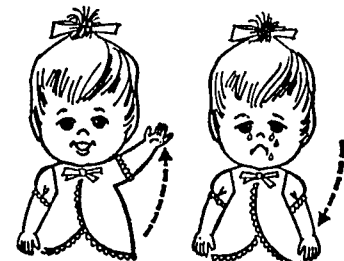

The major lesson Foreign Food Fair was given by Mrs. V. A. Green. Mrs. Green and Mrs. Harlan Robinson brought dishes taken from the major lesson and served them as part of the refreshments.

The minor lesson "Entertaining Graciously" was given by Mrs. Russell Carson. Program books for the new year were completed.

The next meeting will be held on Dec. 15 at the Virginia Scripps park with a 12:30 p.m. luncheon. It will be a Christmas party and gift exchange.

Coins containing nickel were used as early as 235 B.C.

CIRCLE HANNAH OF GRACE TO HOST GENERAL MEETING

Circle Hannah of Grace Methodist church held its November meeting in the church parlor with 20 members and 5 guests present. Mrs. John Oliver gave devotion. Gary Kinnett, church member and student at Illinois College, told of his experiences as a Peace Corps volunteer in Quito, Ecuador. His slides showed much of the country and its people.

Mrs. Arthur Shenkel presided at the short business meeting. Circle Hannah will host the General W.S.C.S. meeting December 7 and provide greeters for the church services during December.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses Mrs. Dennie Pearson, Mrs. Winifred May, Mrs. Clarence Brummett, Mrs. Jean Spencer, and Mrs. John Reeve. The next meeting will be held December 29 at the home of Mrs. Gordon McAllister, 4 Permac Rd.

UNION SERVICE IN ROODHOUSE TODAY

ROODHOUSE — The First Baptist Church, the Christian Church, and the Methodist Church are cooperating and will have their annual Union Thanksgiving service Sunday evening, Nov. 20 at 7:30 in the First Baptist Church.

Rev. Kelvin McCray, pastor of the Methodist Church, will deliver the message. Rev. James Organ, pastor of the Christian Church and Rev. H. L. Janvren, host pastor, will participate in the service.

Special music will be furnished by the North Greene Choralliers under the direction of Mrs. Ronald Martin. The public is urged to attend this service.

4-H Club Activities

Members of the Alexander Ag 4-H club met Nov. 7 at the Catholic church. Jimmy Hermans, president, was in charge. Bridget and Ronnie York were guests. James Luken led a discussion. Billie and Debbie Long served refreshments. The next meeting will be Dec. 5th.

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market turned around on the proverbial dime last week, transforming a vigorous rally into a headline retreat.

By the end of the week there were still a few more winners than losers on the New York Stock Exchange, but the popular averages showed losses.

The head-on collision of bulls and bears produced a volume of 98,926,190 shares, the largest for any week since the one ended last Sept. 4 when 43.1 million shares changed hands. The weekly turnover compared with 30.1 million traded the previous week, which was cut to four days of trading by election day.

The big advance came in celebration of President Johnson's successful surgery and the news that no malignancy was discovered. This rally came on Wednesday, an enthusiastic session in which more than 10 million shares were traded, the biggest day since Aug. 30 when 11.2 million shares changed hands.

The question of the President's surgery was something overhanging Wall Street — one of those imponderables which, if things went amiss, might cause a disaster to confidence. Wall Street, however, expected the best and this led to some preliminary buying on Tuesday.

Sentiment Tuesday was helped also by Republic Steel's dividend increase as it followed examples set by U.S. Steel and Bethlehem. Prices spurred Wednesday as the good news about Johnson's surgery was well ahead of the market opening.

There was an actual disappointing report of expected earnings for Fairchild Camera. Fairchild, along with Motorola and Texas Instruments, took multiple losses. Texas Instruments recovered slightly on Friday, but Fairchild and Motorola extended their losses.

Friday was a losing session as was Monday when there was profit-taking on the post-election rally.

The Dow Jones industrial average last week fell 9.69 to 809.40. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks last week lost 2.8 at 296.7.

General Motors lost 3 at 69.4. GM revealed cutbacks for December and January. On 1,585 issues traded on the New York Stock Exchange, 724 rose and 711 fell.

Municipal bonds suffered one of their sharpest selloffs of the year as bond prices generally declined.

The selloffs of about $15 to $20 per $1,000 bond came under the pressure of a very large bond calendar of about $350 million. Declines in the last two weeks have caused the municipalities to lose about one-third of their $70 to $80 gains made during September and October.

Corporate bonds first declined and then rallied slightly. Overall, however, most corporate bond issues last week were lower by $2.50 to $5.00.

TECHNICAL PROBLEM HALTS TEST BLAST

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — The Atomic Energy Commission Saturday postponed indefinitely the large underground nuclear test scheduled for Monday morning at its Nevada test site. An AEC spokesman said the intermediate-yield detonation had been delayed by technical difficulties.

The shot was expected to be one of the largest conducted in the 14-year history of the test site. The thermonuclear device was to have energy equivalents of 200,000 to one million tons of TNT.

The AEC did not disclose the exact location of the test, giving the code name Greeley. Observers in Las Vegas, however, believed it was to be at the Paiute Mesa.

YOUTHS SURVIVE CAR-TRAIN CRASH

SOUTH HOLLAND, Ill. (AP) — Two occupants of an auto which was smashed by a freight train and burst into flames survived the experience Saturday.

Gerald Brand, 19, of South Holland, was released after treatment in St. Margaret's Hospital. His companion, Patricia Drumm, 18, of Harvey, was admitted to the hospital for treatment of a skull fracture.

Police said Brand had stopped at a grade crossing. His car was struck from behind by another auto driven by Aida Willie, 23, of Beecher. The Bird car was knocked into the path of a Pennsylvania Railroad locomotive which dragged it 500 feet. The car burned so fiercely that firemen could not approach it at first.

NEARBY SOYBEANS FUTURES TOP GAINS

N GRAIN TRADING

CHICAGO (AP)—Nearby soybeans futures prices soared on the Board of Trade last week but most distant contracts took losses.

Wheat also scored good advances for the week but corn and oats futures ended lower and rye prices were mixed.

Trading on November soybeans futures expired at noon Friday and the contract closed at the week's high for a gain during the period of from 10 1/2 to 11 cents a bushel. Wheat closed lower Friday after gains earlier in the week and corn continued in the weak pattern that prevailed much of the week.

For the week, wheat made gains ranging from 2 1/4 to 2 3/4 cents a bushel, December, $1.74-1.76; corn was 3/4 to 3 3/4 lower, December $1.22 1/2 and soybeans 1 1/4 lower to 11 cents higher, November $3.07-06.

A scarcity of deliveries against the November soybean future and small Chicago stocks of the commodity in Chicago warehouses kept shorts on the defensive in the final two weeks of trading in that contract.

Soybeans also turned firm earlier in the week on the strength of an Agriculture Department report lowering an earlier crop carryover estimate to around 50 million bushels for the year ending Aug. 31 compared with 36 million bushels for the year just ended.

Although forecasting a larger carryover, the government economists indicated a rise in soybean usage from 838 million bushels last year to 916 million bushels this year. They forecast that exports would rise to 275 million bushels compared with 261 million bushels for the 1965-66 season.

The department said soybean crushings may total around 858 million bushels compared with 538 million bushels in 1965-66.

Continued world food shortages despite bumper crops in Russia exerted a bullish influence on wheat prices during the week. In India, Mrs. Indira Gandhi, the premier, made a radio broadcast emphasizing the need for food in her nation where drought has raised the prospect of hunger and distress in millions of homes.

The corn market was depressed by the weekly government crop report indicating substantial acreage remains to be harvested.

Bishops

"Where welfare relief is necessary," they said, "it should be given in a context that favors family stability and respects the human dignity of those who cannot earn their living."

"Such programs should help maintain the father in the home and be joined, where need be, with training facilities to enable the unemployed to secure gainful work."

The statement was the next to the last one adopted by the bishops this week. Another, on peace, is ready for publication Monday.

Other Actions

The five-day conference dealt with a mass of work, including new powers devolving on it from the Vatican Council (1962-1965). Among other things it:

—Elected a president for the first time, Archbishop John F. Dearden of Detroit.

—Abolished the mandatory rule against eating meat on Friday.

—Accused federal agencies of pressuring the poor to practice birth control, a charge quickly denied by the federal agencies involved and by private organizations promoting birth control.

—Proposed important liturgical changes, subject to Rome's approval, including one that the entire canon of the Mass — the focal point — be recited in English. Already in this country, other parts of the Mass are generally celebrated in the vernacular.

—Moved toward the creation of a national council of priests, monks, nuns and laymen to advise and help the hierarchy. Bishops remarked that such a move would have been unthinkable as short a time ago as 1960.

President-Archbishop Dearden, a noted scholar-administrator though he has the self-evident air of a man who would rather be a recluse, summed up the conference this way:

"We have resolved this week to carry out the spirit of the Second Vatican Council by inaugurating the implementation of its directives in this country."

"With further study, reflection, prayer and God's grace, we will revitalize the Church in our nation for the years ahead."

BABY-SITTER SLAIN, ARRESTED

NITRO, W. Va. (AP) — A 22-year-old chemical plant worker was charged with murder late Saturday in the multiple stabbing of a young baby-sitter.

State police said Dennis Angel of Nitro was arrested on a murder charge about 18 hours after the body of Frances Kay Voiles, 12, was found in a street here.

An autopsy showed the girl had been stabbed about 40 times on the face, chest, arms and legs but had not been sexually molested. A knife with a four-inch blade was found near the body.

Rush Duel Featured In AFL Today

By MURRAY CHASS

Associated Press Sports Writer

Two heads may be better than one, but are two pairs of legs better than one?

The answer may be learned Sunday when the Boston Patriots send Jim Nance, the American Football League's leading rusher, against Kansas City, the league's Western Division leader. Kansas City, meanwhile, will send Mike Garrett and Bert Coan against Boston.

Of course other factors — such as the league's leading touchdown tosser, Lenny Dawson, are involved, but the ground duel between Nance and Coan on the other could be the AFL's most interesting of the season.

Boston needs a victory over the Chiefs plus a Buffalo loss to Houston to edge into first place in the Eastern Division. Kansas City, on the other hand, has a relatively comfortable two-game lead in the West.

Nance Leading League

In Nance the Patriots have the most powerful single ground weapon in the league. The sophomore fullback has rambled for 885 yards, an average of 98 a game and 4 1/2 a carry.

But in Garrett and Coan the Chiefs have the most powerful, double ground weapon in the league. Rookie Garrett is fourth in rushing with 508 yards while Coan is one notch below with 476 yards. That's a total of 984.

Even if the Patriots stop the Chiefs, though, they won't be assured of anything but remaining in second place in the East.

Since dropping its first two games, Buffalo has lost only once and last week pulled a half game ahead of Boston. And Houston isn't expected to give the Bills too much trouble this week.

Particularly difficult for the Oilers to overcome will be the Bills' defensive four-man line of Tom Day, Tom Sestak, Jim Dunaway and Roland McDole and the linebacking crew of John Tracey, Harry Jacobs and Mike Stratton. They're none better in the league.

Try To Stay Close

Oakland, the runner-up in the West, will try and remain close to Kansas City against a weak Denver team. The Raiders, who have won five of their last six games, have Tom Flores, the league's fourth-rated passer, and Clem Daniels, third in rushing. The Broncos don't have too much.

In the other game, the New York Jets will try to halt a four-game losing streak against Miami. In order to do it, however, Joe Namath must guide his team to some touchdowns, something the Jets couldn't get against Buffalo last week. The rookie Dolphins seek their third victory.

Michigan, Detwiler Tip OSU, 17-3

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Jim Detwiler, a slashing halfback who leads the Big Ten in scoring, smacked through and around Ohio State's beefy line Saturday while leading Michigan to a 17-3 football conquest of the Buckeyes before 83,403 fans.

Detwiler, a 6-foot-3, 215-pound senior from Toledo, piled up more than 100 yards rushing in a first half demonstration of power running. That paced a versatile Wolverine attack.

It was Michigan's sixth victory in 10 games and only its second triumph in seven years over its arch-rival Ohio. This marked only the second losing season for Ohio Coach Woody Hayes in 16 campaigns, as the Buckeyes finished with a disappointing 4-5 record.

Detwiler gave Michigan the go-ahead score with only 1:11 remaining in the first half when he darted untouched around right end for a seven-yard touchdown run and a 10-3 halftime lead.

Pass Key Play

The TD climaxed a 66-yard drive in nine plays, highlighted by Dick Vidmer's 34-yard pass completion to Jack Clancy, the nation's top pass receiver.

The Wolves got on the scoreboard first when Dick Sygar booted a 24-yard field goal with 2:57 left in the first quarter.

Ohio, its offense sputtering all season, got off a 56-yard march late in the first half but stalled on the Wolves' seven. Gary Cairns then kicked a 26-yard field goal to tie the score, but Michigan stormed back and took the lead for good before intermission.

Badgers Give Bruhn A Last Hurrah, 7-6

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—Sophomore-studded Wisconsin, burning to bring one last hurrah to Coach Milt Bruhn at the close of an 11-year career, stunned Minnesota 7-6 Saturday with a fourth down touchdown pass in the final period.

Sophomore John Ryan, rolling out to his left, flipped three yards to sophomore Tom McCauley, alone under the goal posts, and Tom Schinke booted the extra point for the victory.

The aroused Cardinal-clad team lifted Bruhn to its shoulders, handed him the game football and carried him off the field as a crowd of 45,372 stood and cheered.

Bruhn, who twice took the Badgers to the Rose Bowl, resigned under fire Thursday after a third straight losing season.

Fumble Sets Up Score Wisconsin, frustrated for 40 minutes by its own fumbles and wayward passing, struck for its touchdown after tackle Tom Domres pounced on a Gopher fumble at the Minnesota 33 late in the third quarter.

A Minnesota bobble on what should have been a routine conversion kick late in the first half became the turning point of the game.

Holder Larry Carlson juggled a high snap from center and kicker Jim Barle was unable to get the boot off before Badger defenders swarmed in. An hour later that made the difference.

Split end Ken Last, closing out his own career as Minnesota's all-time leading pass receiver, leaped above three Badger defenders to snare a six-yard pinpoint pass from Carlson for the Gophers' only score with 39 seconds left in the first half.

The touchdown was triggered by a 33-yard dash by linebacker Gordon Condo on an intercepted pass.

Badgers Get Life Domres dove into an octopus of flailing arms and legs to seize the ball jarred loose from sophomore halfback John Wintermute at the Minnesota 33 in the third quarter to rescue a Wisconsin team apparently doomed up to that time by its own miscues.

The mild-mannered coach, plagued by seven defeats by margins of 35 points or more in the last two years, had stepped down Thursday in the face of growing pressure for improvement.

Wisconsin was the first and possibly the final head coaching job for Bruhn. Bruhn has been offered a still unspecified desk job in the athletic department of the university.

The Gophers finished at 3-3-1 in the Big Ten and 4-5-1 for all games. Wisconsin wound up 2-4-1 in the conference and 3-6-1 overall.

Texas Tech Upsets Arkansas By 21-16

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP)—Texas Tech stunned sixth-ranked Arkansas 21-16 Saturday, dimming Razorback hopes for a third consecutive Southwest Conference football championship and a trip to the Cotton Bowl.

Arkansas only needed to beat the Red Raiders to clinch the title and get the postseason bowl trip. The season ending loss was its second in seven conference games.

Tech quarterback John Scovell directed the conference's biggest upset of the season. He scored one touchdown and passed for another, then watched from the sidelines as tackle Gene Darr stole an Arkansas pass and ran 20 yards for the clinching score.

Packers And Bears Top NFL Activity

By DICK COUCH
AP Sports Writer

The first time the Chicago Bears caught Green Bay on the rebound this season they burned their paws. The Bears will be hungrier the second time around... but the Packers will be angrier.

Green Bay, upset by Minnesota two weeks ago and idle last week, entertains the Bears Sunday in a pivotal National football league game. The Packers share first place in the Western Division with the Baltimore Colts, who play at Detroit Sunday.

Six weeks ago, San Francisco handed the Packers their only other setback. The following Sunday, Green Bay bounced back at Chicago, stymieing breakaway runner Gale Sayers and drubbing the Bears 17-0.

Sayers has come on strong since being held to 26 rushing yards by Green Bay and quarterback Rudy Bukich finally has the Bears' attack on the move. But Chicago, 3-4-2, is out of the running in the West while the Packers, led by NFL passing leader Bart Starr, are shooting for their second straight Western title.

Pack Solid Favorite Sayers added 85 yards to his rushing total and Bukich threw two touchdowns passes in the Bears' 30-30 standoff with the Packers last week. Bukich will be up against the league's best pass defense Sunday, however, and the Packers are solid favorites.

St. Louis, the Eastern Division leader, draws a bye Sunday but the runner-up Dallas Cowboys can tie for the lead by getting past Pittsburgh, upset winner over the Cardinals and the Cleveland Browns the past two weeks. The Browns host Washington, Philadelphia is at San Francisco, Minnesota at Los Angeles and Atlanta at New York in other games.

Johnny Unitas, Baltimore's master passer, figures to outgun Karl Sweetan, the rookie Detroit quarterback, but the Lions may be able to counter Lou Michaels' place-kicking with the footwork of Gary Yepremian, the surprising Cypriot, whose six field goals against Minnesota last week set an NFL record.

Unitas On Beam Unitas fired four touchdown passes as the Colts drubbed Detroit 45-14 the first time they met this season. Michaels leads NFL scorers with 82 points.

The surging Steelers, playing their final home game, promise to give Dallas a stiffer test than in their first meeting, won by the Cowboys 52-21 as Don Meredith flipped four TD passes.

Meredith hit speedster Bob Hayes for two scores and rolled up 406 aerial yards against Washington last week but the Cowboys needed a last-minute field goal by Danny Villanueva to nip the Redskins 31-30.

Cleveland, looking forward to Thanksgiving Day date with Cowboys in Dallas, must first put away the Redskins to stay alive in the Eastern race. The Browns' LeRoy Kelly and Ernie Green rank second and fourth among NFL rushing leaders and quarterback Frank Ryan has thrown 19 touchdown passes, including a pair in last Sunday's 27-7 romp over Philadelphia.

The Redskins' Charlie Taylor, shifted from running back to split end two weeks ago, has come through with 19 receptions in two games.

John Brodie, who threw 54 passes against Chicago last Sunday, and Bernie Casey, who caught 12, may give Philadelphia a rude reception.

Taylor Big Target The Rams, who buried New York 55-14 last week while gaining 572 net yards and setting a single-game record of 38 first downs, tackle Minnesota's Fran Tarkenton, who wrecked them earlier in the season but was intercepted five times by Detroit last Sunday.

Dick Bass, the league's leading rusher, gives Los Angeles an edge on the ground over the

Rebuilding Year May Face Wolves This Campaign

PLEASANT HILL — A huge loss by graduation gives Pleasant Hill little chance of repeating last year's banner season, on paper at least. From last season's 21-5 group the Wolves lost seven lettermen by graduation.

Coach Wes Rayner, now in his second season at Pleasant Hill, saw his charges add championships in the Pike County and Illinois Valley Conference Tournaments last year, and finish second to Calhoun in the North Greene Regional.

Back from that unit are three lettermen, 6-3 Mark Browning, 5-9 Kenny Hart and 5-9 Rodney Crowder, all seniors.

Rayner comments, "This will be a rebuilding year, with the young players the only bright spots."

Best newcomers include 6-1 Steve Winchell, 6-3 John Franklin, 5-10 Steve Suhling, 6-1 Randy Conner and 5-10 Ric Womble, all juniors, 5-9 Kenny Hart and 5-9 Rodney Crowder, seniors, and 5-8 Gary Hart, 5-6 Steve Helms and 5-9 Robert Daniels of the sophomore class.

Vikings, who have lost halfback Tommy Mason again this week, damaged knee.

Atlanta, improving every week but still winless in nine starts, could break the string against the Giants, who have shaken up their line-up in a bid to end their own slide. Allie Sherman has moved flanker Roy Morrison to running back and has benched four regulars, including halfback Ernie Koy and linebacker Jerry Hillebrand.

Ara: No Alibi Due To Injuries

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Notre Dame Coach Ara Parseghian, obviously disappointed but still proud, refused to use a crippling series of injuries as an alibi for his top-ranked club's come-from-behind 10-10 tie with No. 2 Michigan State Saturday.

Asked how much difference the absence of star halfback Nick Eddy, who missed the whole game, and quarterback Terry Hanratty and center George Goeddeke, racked up in the first quarter, meant in the uphill Irish struggle, Parseghian retorted:

"All I know is that three of our best players weren't available, and you can speculate yourself on what might have happened if Eddy, Hanratty and Goeddeke played all the way."

O'Brien Great "But Coley O'Brien was positively great. I'm really proud of him and the whole club which played a terrific football game."

The big surprise was failure of Eddy, Irish game breaker all season, to play a minute. Eddy slipped on the train steps on Notre Dame's arrival Friday, but Parseghian discounted this as a cause of Eddy's inaction.

"That might have aggravated the bruised right shoulder Eddy had since the Pitt game two weeks ago, but actually his shoulder condition suddenly worsened before we left home Friday."

Parseghian said he was not playing for a tie when Notre Dame ran the ball on the game's final six plays rather than gamble on a pass to get at least winning field goal distance.

"We actually didn't want to blow the game with an interception which would give Michigan State a shot with its great field goal kicker, Dick Kennedy," he said.

Leave Unanswered Top Team Question

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Notre Dame and Michigan State battled to a galling 10-10 tie that failed to decide which should wear the national title Saturday and left a puzzled football world asking:

Why didn't Notre Dame, the No. 1 team, go for victory in the fading seconds, instead of playing for a tie?

The top-ranked Fighting Irish, their ace quarterback Terry Hanratty lost by injury in the first quarter, and playing entirely without their game-breaker halfback Nick Eddy, struck back after trailing 10-0 to deadlock the game with a 28-yard field goal by Joe Azzaro on the first play of the last period.

Then the Irish missed winning by a few agonizing yards when Azzaro failed on a field goal try from the Spartan 31 with less than five minutes remaining.

Azzaro's pressure kick slithered to the right of the goal posts. That wasted big break came after Irish safety Tom Schoen plucked a Michigan State pass out of the air at mid-field and raced to the Spartan 18.

It was then that Michigan State's fighting defensive unit, headed by 283-pound Bubba Smith, threw the Irish back to the 24.

The hopes of Notre Dame supporters in the record Spartan Stadium crowd of 80,011 died. The Irish were running straight power plays into the line when the game ended.

Spartans Grab Lead Eddy, Notre Dame's most explosive halfback who this year had four runs of 100 yards and 11 touchdowns, seeking their second straight perfect 10-0 record and their 20th regular season victory in a row, scored in the second minute of the second quarter on a four-yard run by fullback Reggie Cavender which was set up by a 42-yard pass from quarterback Jimmy Raye to fleet Gene Washington.

Moments later, the Spartans were on the move again, driving from their own 18 under the expert signal calling and occasional running of the slender Raye to the Notre Dame 10.

MSU Stars Not Happy With Tie

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — "I'd like to play another half — right now," said Michigan State's rugged defensive co-captain, George Webster.

Halfback Clint Jones, the offensive co-captain, agreed that would be a fine idea.

Toward the end of the game, when Notre Dame ran out the clock with a 10-10 tie, "We started asking them if they wanted a tie," Webster said.

"Yes," said MSU's 6-foot-7, 283-pound defensive end, Bubba Smith. "We started talking: 'Things like, 'Come on, sissy.' 'When we have to call time out when they have the ball, something is wrong,' said Bubba — the man honored in MSU students' 'Kill, Bubba, kill'."

Going For Broke "We were going for broke," said MSU Coach Duffy Daugherty.

But he refused to criticize Notre Dame Coach Ara Parseghian for not doing likewise in the game's closing moments.

"We were just hoping we'd get the ball again," Daugherty said. "We hoped we would have a last try for a field goal."

When MSU tried — and made — a first down with a fourth-and-one situation on its own 30, he said, "We were just one more first down from field goal range." He pointed out that Dick Kennedy had barely missed a 57-yarder a week ago.

So who's No. 1? "I'm going to vote for us," said Daugherty. But he thought it a tie for first would be appropriate because "I think both teams are worthy of being champions."

Edward W. Moose Krause, Notre Dame's athletic director, came into congratulate Daugherty.

Defense Great "Your defense was great," he told Daugherty.

Daugherty asked whether Krause would agree to national co-champions.

"I'll go for that," Krause said.

"I felt we could stop their ground game," Daugherty said. (Notre Dame gained 91 yards on the ground and 128 in the air.)

"We had (quarterback Terry) Hanratty stopped."

Hanratty was injured and Coley O'Brien replaced him.

"I thought O'Brien came in and did a great job," Daugherty said. "O'Brien scrambled better."

Jim Seymour, Notre Dame's celebrated sophomore end, didn't catch a pass in the game. MSU safety man Jess Phillips said the Spartans kept him covered closely on the long patterned, forcing O'Brien to throw short passes.

The Bowling Scene

by Sandy Petersen

The battle for city-wide high game honors continued to be waged solely within the Manker family last week, as George Manker out-distanced wife Marian's existing locals best (266) on a 268 rolling in Three-Man Scratch Classic League action.

George had posted the early season high at 259 before Marian upped the score-to-beat by seven pins.

A disappointed Dave Wild came close to setting an even higher tally last week in Senior Commercial play, starting off with nine in a row only to gain in rail in the tenth and a 266 total.

The two other local individual highs, Russ Zulauf's four game set of 892 and a 673 three game total by George Manker, went untouched through last week's play.

Manker's 268 effort aided the Bowling Center to a four game sweep over Wade and Dowland to gain the Scratch Classic League lead by four games.

The Bowling Center Unit, which went into the action tied with the opposition, tallied high game (596) and series (2185) for the night.

Games of 174, 197 and 173 accompanied Manker's 268 effort for an 812 series.

Village Printer copped three straight in Topper League play last Tuesday to move one game out in front of Seymour Builders. Both units had been tied for the lead going in.

Third ranking 7-Up copped both team total highs on 1066 and 3115 tallies. Ken Rogers put together the high set (577), while Hugh Bradshaw recorded a 222 game for the single high.

Elks League standings remained unchanged last week as the top three clubs each recorded 2-1 triumphs. Baker Chevrolet maintained its 1/2 game margin over Jacksonville Foods No. 2, with Cox Buick standing 1 1/2 games out.

Olson Cleaners shot the high series of the night, a 3023, as they took three straight from Wade and Dowland.

Lloyd Byers of Walgreen's took individual honors with a 229 single effort and 606 series. Ralph Eoff continues to lead the circuit with a 189 average.

Early-season leaders Birdsall Candies moved back into the Thursday Nite Men's League top slot last week via a three-game sweep. Tempo Aristocrats, which had held the lead for four straight weeks, fell to second, one game back.

Third place Jokers led in both team scoring departments on 1059 and 3039 tallies, while George Manker's 569 set (212, 190, 187) and a 214 effort by Gary Frost topped the charts.

Ed Autery leads the league average race with a 181 clip. Birdsall's Motor Shop won all three Friday night to move into second slot in Community League play, one game behind Jim's Big Value. The sweep pushed the Mel Roegge - led Kordite unit into third position, two games back.

Roegge paced all scorers with a 178, 208, 219-605 effort during the action, while Jim's Big Value and B. & M. Floor Covering shared team honors on respective 3010 and 1049 counts.

John Eoff's 179 average rates high. A 1-2 setback failed to reduce the Holt's game and a half Friday Mixed Doubles League lead last week, as the second-running C. Kings could only match the 1-2 pace.

The team of Lawson-Miller recorded both team highs on 389 and 1051 counts. Ed Autery's 597 set and a 224 effort by Ernie Miller rated individual bests.

An oddity occurred in Thursday Night Rockette League action last week, as Ray's T.V. recorded both high team game (780) and series (2215) marks while dropping two of three games.

The losses dropped Rays to third, 2 1/2 games behind league leading Mids Casual Wear and one game off Colclasure Brothers' pace.

Penza's Marian Manker high-lighted individual scoring with a 128, 166, 207-501 total. Doris Wheeler fired games of 223, 179 and 151 Friday in leading A.C.W.A. to a three-game sweep, and team series and game highs in the Pla-Mor League. High team marks of 2288 and 829 maneuvered the sweep, and cut one game off Hillcrest Mobile Home's five game lead.

Vena Brogdon leads the circuit with a 155 average, followed by Shirley Gish at 154.

Leonard and Six' K of C League lead was cut to 3 1/2 games Tuesday night, as Walgreen Drug and Branstetter Printing gained ground. Crawford Lumber gained high series (2954), with Roach Plumbing picking up the top game on a 1066 count.

Ken Wood's 537 set and Sas-senberger's 199 game were individual highs.

Third and fourth place Lucky Boy Bread and Pepsi Cola posted 2-1 counts over C D of A League leaders Dempsey's TV and runner up Farmers State Bank to tightening the circuit's standings after last Tuesday night's action.

Lucky Boy took the high series on a 1954, while Farmers copped single game honors on a 690. Louise Smith and Wilma Fairfield shared individual highs with respective 442 series and 171 game.

Front running 53 upped its Kordite Women's League lead to two full games over 0-1 last Monday night, via a 2-1 outing. Clara Robertson grabbed both scores-to-beat with a 179 game and 497 set. D-1's 2317 series and an 812 game by D-3 rated high team totals.

The Bowling Center, behind the 225 shooting of Robin Manker, posted a new High School League team game high during their three-game sweep last week.

The triumphs lifted the unit to a 20-1 status, three games out in front of Midland Electric. Manker's 225, high for the week, was augmented by Dick Herrin's 203, a 181 by Jim Clinton, Tom Cline's 186 and a 181 effort by Mike Miller.

Fred Manker rolled the week's high series on a 199, 188, 184-571 outing.

Meadow Gold failed to pick up any ground on Queen Pin League leaders Dunlap Court Beverage last week, as both clubs went 2-1 for the night.

The leaders recorded the week's team game best (845), while Meadow Gold copped team series honors on a 2381. Dunlap's Susie Tucker's 153, 188, 214-555 outing was tops, with Marge Howard gaining the game high on a 216 game.

Marian Manker leads the circuit with a 184 average, followed by Doris Culbertson at 161.

George's Pizza copped two of three last week to remain two full games out in front of the City League field.

Fourth place Martinizing topped the single game figures with a 1020, while Glisson Ford led the series parade on a 2951 count.

Bud Strubbe sparked Martinizing's effort with the week's best rolling: 192, 210, 172-574. Chet Reum holds the loop's high average mark on a 189 pace.

A 2 1/2-1/2 outing lifted the Hopes into a two-way tie for the Tuesday Afternoon Ladies League lead with the Happy Losers.

The Newcomers, who fell from a second place tie into the third slot, netted high series honors (1754), with the Holey Rollers picking up the high game on a 647 count.

Norma Willner of the Happy Losers paced all shooters with a 191, 158, 157-506.

A three-way deadlock continued after the Junior Commercial League through last week's play as Doyle-Shanley Insurance, Baptist Sound and City Water and Power each totaled a 2-1 night.

Weem's Radiator's 2976 series rated high, while Doyle-Shanley grabbed high game honors on a 1046.

A. Carbridge's 221 game and a 570 set by H. Nunes also rated as high.

Bowling Center gained only a 2-2 split in Tuesday 3-Man Handicap League action last week, but the split was good enough to keep the unit atop the loop charts by 2 1/2 games over Hembrugh Motors.

Fourth-rated Besco took the high game on a 580, while Gaston Cook kept Wipco in a tie for the slot via his 796 outing.

Chet Reum posted a 223 game during the action, while Powell's Body Shop's 2167 effort, also rated high honors.

Crown Finance, aided by the week's high 2870 series, swept three Wednesday night to vault into the lead in the tight Town and Country League race. The leaders hold a one game advantage over both Cox Buick and Don's Golf, with Mark's Barber Shop standing 1 1/2 game back.

Budweiser totaled the week's high game (930), while Marty

JHS BACKBONE: These six returning lettermen will form the backbone of Jacksonville High's hardcourt unit this season. Front, l-r, are Abe Brown, Duane Hess and Rich Cable, all three starters most of last year. Back are Mike Tindick, Robin Manker and Bob Donovan, all of whom had at least one starting role.

Sub Paces USC To 14-7 Surprise

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Quarterback Norm Dow, filling in for the injured Gary Beban, led UCLA to an upset 14-7 victory over Southern California Saturday, putting the Bruins in strong contention for their second straight trip to the Rose Bowl New Year's Day.

Dow had played very little until Beban was put out of action with a broken leg bone against Stanford last week. He scored one touchdown and engineered the second to break a tie in the fourth quarter.

The triumph left No. 8-ranked UCLA with a record of 9-1 and 3-1 in the Pacific-8 conference. UCLA scored early in the third quarter after kicking off and holding the Trojans on the first series.

The Bruins traveled 42 yards in seven plays, ignited by Dow's 18-yard ramble to the Trojan 20. Five plays later Dow skirted right end for the final five yards. Kurt Zimmerman kicked the first of two conversions, running his string for the season to 33 straight.

IC Swim Team Looks To Improve

The Illinois College swimming team opens up its 1966-1967 season against Culver-Stockton College on December 2 at Canton, Mo.

The Blueboys, now under the direction of Gary Rasmussen, started practicing for the oncoming season on November 15 and since then have been working out twice a day, once at six o'clock in the morning and again at four in the afternoon. "The boys have been working very hard to get into shape for the approaching season," commented Rasmussen, in his first year at Illinois College.

With seven full days of practice left, the starting lineup still has not been selected. Pete Clark, a sophomore from Lexington, Massachusetts; Bill Brooks, sophomore from Chicago; Tom Gee, sophomore from Manteno, Ill.; and John Frazier, another sophomore from Chicago, are battling for positions in the freestyle events.

Bill Olsen, junior from Chicago; Pete Kelsey, senior from St. Louis; and Rudy Smolka, freshman from Chicago, are competing for spots in the backstroke event. Representing the Blueboys in the individual medley will be Alan Bradish, a sophomore, and Richard Hildner, a junior. Both are from Jacksonville.

Bradish is competing with Pete Fiddler, freshman from Marengo, Ill.; and Mike Herter, freshman from Springfield, in the breaststroke. In the butterfly Ted Rammelkamp, a senior, Bob Marshall and Andy Kant, sophomores, are working out. All three are from Jacksonville.

Attempt To Improve The Blueboys will be attempting to improve upon previous seasons. There are six dual meets scheduled. Culver-Stockton (2), Iowa Wesleyan (2), the University of Illinois of Chicago Circle and Principia will be the individual competition. A triangular meet is scheduled with Monmouth and Rockford College at Monmouth.

In February, IC will participate in two tournaments. First will be the Rockford Relays at Rockford College in Rockford, Ill. Then later in the month, the Blueboys will travel to Chicago to take part in the Illinois Private College Swim Meet at George Williams College.

"I can't make any predictions about the season as of yet. This is my first season here, and I really don't know what the competition will be like," said Rasmussen.

IC Schedule:

'Walk-On' Duo Sparks Wildcats To 35-7 Surprise Over Illinois

TIGER VETERANS: When the ISD Tigers open their basketball season against Girard in the Illinois College gymnasium Tuesday evening, these seven returning lettermen will form the nucleus of the team. Front, l-r, are Steve Baker, Harry Bloomgren and Terry Storey. Back are Gary Shaw, Jesse Joyner, Bill Fox and Bill Flatt. Another letterman, Richard Thing, is missing from picture.

Triopia Lists 5 Lettermen Back For Basketball

CHAPIN — The loss of only three lettermen and the return of five, including two full-time starters, give Triopia a good shot at improving on last season's 15-13 overall slate. The squad, including the returning vets, have good average size.

Heading the list of returners for coach Don Kemp, starting his 15th year in the system, are returning regulars Harlan Fricke and Bill Meier. Both are 6-0 seniors.

Other returning lettermen are 6-0 Jim Kleinschmidt and 6-3 Charles Paul, seniors, and junior

Meredosia Faced With Rebuilding

MEREDOSIA — With only three returning lettermen and only one player on the roster reaching the 6-0 mark, the Meredosians may be playing through a rebuilding campaign this year. Last time around the Indians were 9-12, 3-5 in the PMSC Conference. From that team five lettermen graduated.

Returning lettermen for coach Don Criswell in his first season, are 5-6 Jay Surratt, 6-0 John Greiber, seniors, and 5-9 junior Frank Fanshier. Juniors hopeful of varsity action include 5-8 Harvey Fueling, 5-10 Stan Summers, 5-9 Gary Irvin, 5-9 Steve Kunzeman and 5-10 John Caldwell. Sophomore hopefuls are 5-10 Gary Ham, 5-8 Bruce Dawson, 5-10 Corky Lemmon and 5-11 Gary Staake.

WHITEWATER IN BOWL.

KANSAS CITY (AP)—White-water State of Wisconsin, undefeated in nine games, was named Saturday as the second of four teams to take part in the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics.

New Mexico Highlands, 8-1, the first team to be selected, will host one of the two semifinals at Albuquerque, N. M. Selection of the third and fourth teams, the pairings and the second game site will be announced Monday.

Winners of the two semifinal games to be played Saturday, Nov. 26 or the following Monday or Tuesday, will advance to the NAIA championship bowl to be played Dec. 10 at Tulsa, Okla.

Northern 18, Milwaukee 8
DEKALB, Ill. (AP) — Mike Griesman hit on 27 of 38 passes for 336 yards and four touchdowns Saturday to lead Northern Illinois to a closing 48-8 football victory over Wisconsin-Milwaukee.

Jack Frost scored on runs of 25 and 28 yards and John Spilis also tallied twice on 28 and 5-yard runs. Rick Osbourne boot-ed 6 out of 7 extra points to raise his season total to 34 for a school record.

Wisconsin, held to 99 yards, rushing, tallied early in the fourth quarter on Jim Skarie's eight-yard pass to John Birk. Skarie passed to Terry Fedenberger for the two extra points.

Melzer Has Hot Hand In Upset

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — Bill Melzer, Northwestern's "walk-on" quarterback, passed for two touchdowns and set up two more with his aerials to fire the Wildcats to a 35-7 upset victory over Illinois Saturday in a Big Ten football finale.

The 20-year-old junior from Clintonville, Wis., who wasn't recruited, poured it on favored Illini by completing 12 of 20 passes for 241 yards including a 55-yard touchdown strike to Chicago Kurzawski which broke up a 7-7 tie and opened up the rout.

Illinois took the opening kickoff and moved with ridiculous ease on a 71-yard scoring march capped by Bill Huston's seven-yard gallop.

Early in the second quarter, Melzer moved Northwestern 66 yards for a tying touchdown as he completed five passes for 49 yards, including a pair to his favorite target, Roger Murphy. Bob McKelvey scored from the 7.

Murphy Surpasses Mark Murphy, also a Northwestern "walk-on," grabbed six passes for 131 yards and broke the Northwestern season record of 45 catches by Paul Flatley. Murphy finished with 51 receptions.

Three minutes after tying the game, Northwestern went ahead 14-7 on a 65-yard scoring pass. Kurzawski took Melzer's toss on the Illini 37 and rambled across untouched.

With little more than one minute to play in the first half, Northwestern made it 21-7 when Phil Clarke intercepted a Bob Naponic pass and went 66 yards to score.

Wildcats Clear Bench Northwestern hammered two more touchdowns in the third period before Coach Alex Agase cleared the bench. The Wildcats took the second half kickoff and went 65 yards for a touchdown. Melzer set it up with a 40-yard completion to Murphy and then swept end for the final seven yards.

Northwestern's last touchdown came after John McCambridge recovered a fumble by Huston on the Illinois 14 and Melzer tossed an 11-yard payoff pass to Murphy.

Births

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Six, 810 Routh street, became parents of a son born at 1:30 p.m. Friday at Passavant hospital.

Appoint County Division Head For United Fund

Mrs. Harry L. Killam of R. F. D. No. 1, Chapin has been appointed chairman of Division IV, the county division, of the United Fund of Morgan County. She will have sub-chairmen assisting her in covering solicitations of the 19 townships in the county.

Mrs. Harry Killam

"We already have eight to 28 workers in most of the townships and they are out soliciting now for the United Fund. The eleven agencies which benefit from this county-wide support are deserving of all our efforts in this once-a-year campaign," Mrs. Killam said.

A native of Morgan County, Mrs. Killam attended Jacksonville schools.

She is a board member of the Red Cross and Morgan County Tuberculosis Association and a member of Jacksonville Woman's Club, Cooperative Extension Service, Morgan County Garden Club, and the Married Couples Class of Central Christian Church.

She was chairman of the rural area division of the United Fund in 1963.

She and her husband have one son.

Surviving is a son, Floyd Rolf of rural Winchester; two brothers, Albert and William, both of the Exeter area; a sister, Mrs. Flora Redshaw of Jacksonville; and two granddaughters, Melba and Christine Rolf.

Mr. Rolf, a retired farmer, was a member of the Jacksonville Church of the Nazarene.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Monday at Gillham-Buchanan Funeral Home, Rev. Claude Smith officiating. Burial will be in Memorial Lawn cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home after noon today.

The family requests that expressions of sympathy be made in the form of memorial contributions to the Nazarene church.

PRINCIPIA PROF GUEST SPEAKER FOR POSTMASTERS

CARROLLTON — Edward Bradley, Professor of French at Principia College, Elmhurst, was the speaker at a bi-monthly dinner meeting of the Tri-County Postmasters Association held Monday evening in Day's Colonial Room.

Mr. Bradley, who has spent several vacations in France, showed colored slides of French cities and countryside.

Paul Barnes of Elmhurst, the president of the organization, presided during a short business meeting after the dinner and introduced the guest speaker.

The next meeting of the association will be January 9 and will again be held at Day's Colonial Room.

CONCRETE TRUCK DAMAGED

A concrete truck was damaged about 8:30 Saturday morning when it was struck by a transport rig on the south side of the square.

The truck was unloading concrete at Rus Verner Jewelers when the front of the unit was hit by a transport truck driven by James Hawkins of Garvallo, Iowa.

BACKING NEIGHBORS

Two cars were damaged in the 1800 block of Mound road while they were backing from two separate driveways Saturday at 5:22 p.m.

According to city police, a car operated by Peggy J. Keenher of route three, backed from a drive at 1842 Mound into a car, driven by Emily A. Pacheco of 1839 Mound, backing from a drive at that address.

'The World Is Our Neighbor' Philosophy Of Girl Scouts

(Ed. Note: This is the second of 11 feature stories on agencies which receive financial support through the United Fund of Morgan County—now in the midst of its annual campaign for gifts and pledges.)

"The world is our neighbor" is the philosophy of every Girl Scout in the Illinois Prairie Girl Scout Council as she joins hands with Girl Scouts at home and abroad through membership in the World Association of Girl Guides and Girl Scouts, according to Mrs. Robert R. Hartman, who retired last year after eight years as executive director of the area council.

Mrs. William Freeman is now the executive director of the council which coordinates and supervises the Girl Scout troops in Morgan county and the Illinois Prairie Girl Scout Council. The headquarters are located at 110 North East street in Jacksonville.

From the time that the first small group of girls under the direction of Juliette Low began Girl Scouting in the U.S. in Savannah, Georgia, in 1912, the popular movement has grown to include 67 countries — with headquarters at Olive House in London, England.

The first Girl Scout troop organized in Jacksonville, "Blue Bird No. 1" which began at Illinois School for the Deaf on Nov. 22, 1919, was also the first troop to be organized in the U.S. for handicapped girls. In 1936 a troop was organized at the School for the Blind, but today the girls from this school (now I.B.S.S.S.) participate in Scouting activities within other troops.

It was on May 11, 1950, that the Jacksonville Kiwanis Club erected the cabin at Lake Jacksonville which is now the Girl Scout camp known as Camp Shagbark.

AMVET Week In Jacksonville Starts Monday

Jacksonville AMVET Post 100 has designated the week of November 21st as "AMVET week in Jacksonville."

A membership drive will be conducted during the week and will be concluded on Sunday, November 27th, the date of the 20th Birthday celebration of the Post.

Mayor Holkenbrink has issued a proclamation designating the week of November 21st through the 27th as "AMVET week in Jacksonville," urging all persons who are eligible to membership to take steps necessary for membership in AMVETS.

C. P. Siegfried, P.R.O. of local AMVET Post 100, announced that on September 14th of this year, President Lyndon B. Johnson signed a bill defining the eligibility dates for AMVET membership — "Any person who served in the Armed Forces of the United States of America or any American citizen who served in the armed forces of an allied nation of the United States on or after September 16, 1940 and on or before the date of cessation of hostilities as determined by the government of the United States is eligible for regular membership in AMVETS, providing such service when terminated by discharge or release from active duty or by honorable discharge or separation."

By this action of Congress, the eligibility dates for membership have been extended to include the Viet Nam conflict, thereby affording many more veterans the opportunity of joining up with AMVETS.

Jacksonville AMVET Post will hold its next regular semi-monthly meeting on Tuesday, Nov. 22nd and final plans will be completed and program announced for the 20th birthday celebration.

"AMVET week in Jacksonville" will be climaxed with a dinner-dance on Sunday, Nov. 27th. Tickets can be secured at the AMVET snack bar and all members and guests desiring to attend are asked to pick up their tickets or make reservations as soon as possible due to the limitation of accommodations.

Two of the aircraft were based at Wheelus AB, Libya, while the third was on standby at Mauritius Island in the Indian Ocean. Personnel from the airman's wing also helped man the area recovery control center at Moron A. B., Spain.

The airman is a 1965 graduate of West Pike High School in Kinderhook.

ARREST STUDENTS AFTER CAR CHASE

Four college students were apprehended by city police with the help of state troopers about 1:30 Saturday morning after a chase in the southwest part of Jacksonville.

Frank E. Anderson of Oak Park was charged with attempting to elude a police officer. Three passengers in his car were charged with illegal possession of liquor. They were identified as Wesley E. Scroggins and R. William Kutche, both of Bunker Hill and Terry Miller of Decatur. Another passenger in the car, Kent Meng of Greenfield, slipped away from police, but came into the police station voluntarily Saturday. He was also charged with illegal possession.

The students abandoned their car on Lincoln avenue and fled on foot. The chase began when officers spotted the vehicle being driven without lights in the vicinity of the Jonathan Turner Junior high school.

Sue Chapman

JERSEYVILLE—The date for the wedding of Miss Sue Chapman and Robert Thiel has been set for Saturday, January fourteenth. The ceremony will take place at ten o'clock in the morning at the Church of the Holy Ghost with the Reverend P. P. Heinen officiating.

The bride-elect is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Leonard and a 1963 graduate of Jersey Community High School. She attended Northern Illinois University at DeKalb and is presently employed as a loan processor at the Germania Savings and Loan Company in Alton.

Her fiancé is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Thiel of the Rockbridge community. He is a graduate of the Greenfield High School, class of 1961, and attended Illinois College in Jacksonville, where he became a member of Alpha Phi Omega society. He is engaged in farming.

Newcomers Board Briefs Successors On Duties

The board members of the Welcome Wagon Newcomers club met in November at the home of Mrs. John Burch. Welcome Wagon hostess. Also present were the coming year officers with a total of 22 attending.

Mrs. Jan Blue, vice president, was in charge. New board members were introduced and committee reports were heard. The publicity chairman, Mrs. Frank Coble, announced a picture of the 1967 officers will be taken at the Dec. 6th meeting and also of new members joining in November. Those in the latter group will be contacted.

Members are reminded to take articles of clothing, canned goods and a 75-cent cash donation for the club's Christmas project. Information on clothing sizes may be obtained from the president, Mrs. Larry Schmaljohn.

Mrs. Tom Bellamy and Mrs. Raymond were appointed to audit the books following the December meeting.

Hostesses for the December meeting will be the club's retiring officers. Cards will be played during the social hour following the program. The program in December consists of the installation of new officers with Mrs. Burch in charge.

The club's Nov. 1st program was presented by Mrs. Harry Merriman and Mrs. Arthur E. Seeman on floral arrangement and Christmas decorations.

Handwork Is Topic Before Household Club

Members of the Jacksonville Household Science club met Nov. 15th at the home of Mrs. Edward Hopper, 223 Caldwell street with Mrs. William Gross as assistant hostess.

Gifts was the subject prepared by Mrs. Ernest Stout who displayed many articles of her own beautiful handwork. Mrs. Stout states the background of this creative work began when she was a child and has developed through the years. The pastime of embroidery, sewing and the making of many holiday gifts has proved to be both therapy and a very relaxing occupation.

Following adjournment refreshments were served with Mrs. Hugh Green, program chairman, presiding at the tea table. The next meeting will be in January.

Loyal Women's Class Meets At Church Hall

The Loyal Women's Class of the Central Christian church met in Fellowship Hall at the church Monday, Nov. 14th.

A silent auction realized a good sum of money. The president, Mrs. Georgia Carter, presided and Mrs. Ione Thompson had devotions. The hostess served punch, doughnuts, candy, nuts and coffee or tea.

Entre Nous Has 2 New Members

Entre Nous Toastmistress club met the evening of Nov. 17th at Hamilton's for a dinner at 6:30. The invocation was given by Mrs. Mildred Kane, a new member. Toastmistress Mrs. John Keenher called on Mrs. Harold McNamara for ideas on shopping before the Christmas season starts. The topic, "Do You Think The Real Meaning of Christmas Is Forgotten?" was well discussed by Mrs. Kathleen Long. Mrs. Jerry Loneragan's extemporaneous topic, "How Do You Think Children Feel About Christmas Today?" was very interesting.

The education program was given by Mrs. Charles Davis on word vocabulary and a round table discussion followed. The business meeting was conducted by the president Mrs. Marie Ritchie. Plans were made for a white elephant sale at the Catholic Daughters Christmas party to be held December 1st at the Elks Club. Mrs. C. J. Loneragan and Mrs. Harold McNamara will be co-chairmen.

On Nov. 5th Mrs. Kathleen Long and Mrs. Geraldine Taylor attended a Council Three meeting at Ramada Inn in Effingham, Illinois. Mrs. Long gave a report and announced Entre Nous will host Council Three May 7th. The council includes Springfield; C.D.A. of Springfield; Decatur; Champaign-Urbana; Danville and Casey clubs.

Toastmistress Mrs. Albert McGinnis presented Mrs. John Pine, Sr. whose topic was "There Are Two Sides to Every Coin." Mrs. Geraldine Taylor, who attended International Toastmistress convention, gave a program from one of the workshops on "Interpretive Reading." She was assisted by interpretive poetry reading by Mrs. Marie Saner, who read "Gathering Leaves," by Robert Frost and "La Via Vecchia" (the old road) by Reginald Saner.

Evaluation was given by Mrs. Ed Jordan, timer for the evening was Mrs. C. J. Loneragan and the thought for the day was given by Mrs. Jerry Loneragan. The tables were decorated with individual cornucopias holding the evening program and a large cornucopia filled with toastmistress literature on the main table. Hostesses were Mrs. John Keenher and Mrs. Jerry Loneragan.

Two new members were accepted: Mrs. Mildred Kane, and Mrs. Walter Seether. Guests were Mrs. Margaret Burke, Miss Eileen Ferry, and Mrs. John A. Coop.

The next meeting will be held Wednesday, Dec. 15th with a gift exchange.

Chapin Mother's Club Plans Party

The Chapin Merry Mother's club met recently at the home of Mrs. Loren Brockhouse. Mrs. Ernest Detmer was the assistant hostess.

Mrs. William Surratt conducted the business session during which possible Christmas projects were discussed. Eighteen members were present.

The club's annual Christmas party will be held at 6:30 p.m. Dec. 3 at the Virginia Country club.

The wedding was Saturday afternoon, October twentieth, at Central Christian church with the pastor, the Reverend William K. Sturgess officiating.

Pink and white carnations and mums were used with ferns at the church altar.

The bride's sister, Judy Ann, was maid of honor and Miss Vaughnne Boman and Miss Patty Ann Smith were bridesmaids. Buford Green attended his brother as best man. Paul Nunes and William Acree, cousin of the groom, were groomsmen.

A sister of the bride, Vicki Lynn, was flower girl and Brian Shepherd of Peoria, cousin of the bride, was the ring bearer.

Ushers were Dennis Sergeant, Douglas Sergeant, Ronald Sergeant, Michael Bandy, Ronald Helm and Ricky Acree.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown designed by her sister-in-law, Joyce Sergeant, fashioned of white satin and made entrain. A double crown of pearls held her veil of illusion and she carried a cascade of white roses.

The bride's attendants were gowned alike in floor length tulle with matching color bow headpieces. Each carried a nosegay of pink roses and white carnations.

The mother of the bride wore pastel blue wool with corresponding color accessories and the groom's mother was also in blue wool with white accessories. Each mother wore a corsage of white carnations.

A reception was held at the church with sisters of the bride and close friends assisting.

Mrs. Green graduated from Jacksonville High School and is employed by the General Telephone Company. The groom graduated from the same high school and is a sophomore at Illinois College and also employed at the IGA store in this city.

Business Women's Club 'Candy For Scholarships' Project In Full Swing

College City Charter Chapter of the American Business Women's Association is beginning a drive to raise money for scholarships to be given Jacksonville girls needing help to further their education.

The members of the Association are selling De Mets Turtles at one dollar per box. All proceeds will be used for scholarships.

Mrs. Blanche Mentler, ways and means chairman, and her committee, Della Birdsell, Marguerite Robinson, Vicki Seeman, Mabel Massey, June Huss or any A.B.W.A. member will be happy to supply you with any number of the gaily wrapped boxes for holiday gift giving or just plain good eating. You may phone 245-4951 and the candy will be delivered to your door.

Any one knowing of a Jacksonville girl in need of assistance in financing her college, vocational or business education may recommend her or suggest she apply to the Educational Projects committee, Mrs. Richard Denney, chairman, Miss Delilah Newell and Mrs. Roberta Meek, for consideration.

Helen M. Whalen Of Waverly Joins Wed. Dec. 28th

WAVERLY — Mr. and Mrs. Richard Whalen announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Helen Marie, to Jerry L. Bieller, son of Mrs. Walter Bieller of East Carondelet, Illinois and the late Mr. Bieller. They will be married December 28th at the Sacred Heart church in Franklin.

Miss Whalen is a graduate of Sacred Heart Academy and St. John's hospital School of Nursing in Springfield. She is employed by the Morgan County Health Department in Jacksonville.

Mr. Bieller is a graduate of the Duplo High School and Western Illinois University. He is a member of the faculty of Waverly High School.

FASHIONABLE, BUT NOT MUCH PROTECTION
Fishnet stockings are fashionable on pretty young legs, but they don't offer the skin much protection from cold winter winds. Baby cream, rubbed in before you put on your stockings, will give long-lasting protection, even through long walks in snow and rain.

PIANO RECITAL TODAY
Piano pupils of Mrs. Verla Williams will be presented in a recital at 2:30 p.m. this afternoon at the Concord Christian Church. The public is welcome.

History Of Music Boxes Program For Chapin Clubwomen

CHAPIN — Members of the Woman's Town and Country Club of Chapin met Tuesday, November 15th, at the home of Mrs. Edwin Deitrich. She was assisted by Mrs. L. P. Shepard. Christmas gifts for "forgotten patients" at the Jacksonville State Hospital were collected.

The meeting was opened with the pledge of allegiance led by Mrs. Andrew Detmer and the club collect led by Mrs. Harlan Lakamp. Members and guests, Mrs. John May and Mrs. Robert Beard, answered roll with a hobby. After a brief business, conducted by Mrs. Harlan Hamilton, president, the members sang the club song.

Mrs. Robert Joy, program chairman, introduced Mrs. John May who delighted the members with her program on Music Boxes. She gave an interesting history telling of the boxes as first mechanical musical instruments to be enjoyed in the home. The earliest ones came from Switzerland about 1740 and the larger cylinder types in 1802. The music box is largely hand made and its maker must have many talents. Mrs. May has been collecting boxes for years and has over forty. She displayed different types, from her first one—an old German teapot which plays "Polly Put the Kettle On" to her newest ones from Switzerland—a dancing Ballerina and a golden Christmas bell. Mrs. May concluded her program by playing the beautiful music produced by her most treasured box made in 1876.

The meeting was closed with prayer led by Mrs. Roy Schone. Refreshments were served by the hostesses.

Ann Landers:

Crash Diet Victim Needs Help

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: Our daughter who is 23 years old went on a crash diet last November. Rosalie was 5 feet 5 inches, weighed 130 pounds and looked just fine to me. But she said she "felt fat" and nobody could talk her out of it.

Within four months Rosalie was down to 96 pounds. The poor girl was skin and bones. When she was dieting she couldn't keep food down, and now — a year later — she still vomits almost every day.

I have cried and begged and pleaded with her to see a doctor but she says she is not sick. What do you call it when a person can't keep a meal down? This is well?

Please tell me what to do. I spoke to our family doctor and he said you can't force the girl to get help if she doesn't want it. What do you say? —ONLY HER MOTHER

Dear Only: I say your family doctor gave you excellent advice. And now may I add a word?

Stop the crying and the begging and the pleading. Perhaps Rosalie's stubborn refusal to see a doctor is related to her hostility toward you. Get off her back and she will probably seek some outside help (which she desperately needs) when she gets to feeling it is "her" idea and not yours.

Dear Ann Landers: I am 17, an average-looking girl with a nice personality. I've had my eye on a certain boy for a year. I'll call him Barry. Finally Barry asked me for a date and I was thrilled. But it turned out to be a funny kind of an evening. Barry showed up with two fellows in the car and then we picked up a third.

I have gone out with Barry five times and every date is the same — no less than two other guys tagging along. Usually we just cruise around. Once we all went bowling.

My mother says she doesn't want me going with four and five boys because it looks terrible. I don't like the idea either because frankly I'd like to spend an evening with just Barry. But I'm afraid to suggest it. What do you think? —MOB SCENE

Dear Mob: A girl has the right, before she accepts a date, to ask the boy what kind of evening he has in mind. And if she doesn't want to be a den mother to four guys she should say so.

Next time, make it plain that if Barry wants to drag a friend or two, the friends should bring dates. It's apparent that Barry would rather not be alone with you, just yet — so don't push it.

Dear Ann Landers: My husband retired last January and I am ready to go to work just to get out of the house and have a few hours to myself. When my friends told me that their husbands got to be a nuisance after they retired, I didn't believe them. I do now.

My husband is in good health and could do many things if he wanted to. But no, he'd rather dog my footsteps when I market, clean house and do the gardening. He even wants to come to my bridge club.

If I go where he can't go he looks hurt. Please help me. —R. R. R.

Dear R. R. R.: Suggest that your husband do the gardening while you do the marketing. Learn if there's a Golden Age Club in your city. He could find friends and interests there. Freedom is never free. You have to fight for it. And I hope you win because if you don't, you're sunk.

FINDING THE WAY

Communicating the Word

Dr. Loew

By RALPH W. LOEW, D.D.

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

One of the affluent industries of our generation is packaging. Developing bright containers with attractive colors and easily opened devices becomes the lifeblood of many talented people. There are laws governing the claims, the weight and the contents of the package.

The shape and form of the containers is limited only by the imagination and the practical storage dimensions. Packaging is important in other areas of life. The form of worship, a vehicle for worship, is in the process of change in all varieties of religious groups. The need to communicate has affected all of the older or historic translations of Scripture.

In many instances, the change is more radical. It is the discovery of the truth which has been confused with the packaging, and which causes new insights to be brought to the meaning of the statement of faith.

In the new Scripture translation the change of form is dramatic. Once upon a time, the Bible was protected by heavily decorated covers, sometimes closed with a latch, and kept in a place of reverence. With the upheaval of the Reformation new translations into the vernacular were published. In the 20th century we've had a rash of these new versions. Among the earlier forms was the American Revised version, quickly followed by the Goodspeed and Moffatt translations.

And then by the Revised Standard version and the new English Bible. In addition, the B. Phillips paraphrase is a fascinating statement. The Anchor Bible, now in production, promises to be an interesting meeting ground for both Roman Catholic and Protestant.

One of the most interesting of the new packages for the Word is the volume, "Good News for Modern Man."

Published by the American Bible Society, it is packaged as a paperback. The new translation uses words now common in the English language. The pages are broken by frequent paragraph headings so that one is not overwhelmed by the printed page. There are simple line drawings which illustrate various passages.

One immediately detects the emphasis upon communication rather than poetic beauty. The petition in the Lord's prayer concerning forgiveness is translated, "Forgive us what we owe you as we forgive what others owe us." The Beatitudes are stated as a series of injunctions beginning "Happy are those..." "Happy are those who know they are spiritually poor: the kingdom of heaven belongs to them." "Happy are those who work for peace among men: God will call them sons."

One immediately detects the dignity and the reverence which are kept in this translation. It is meaningful, not flippant, honest when not poetic. Its importance is that it brings the content of Scripture in an attractive package geared to modern man. It is doubtful that such a translation can ever influence quickly followed by the Goodspeed and Moffatt translations.

It does encourage men and women to read the Scriptures regularly, carefully, and understandingly. It enables them to escape the package.

Color Chart to Gord Pork

By GAYNOR MADDOX

Q—Now that pork is on the plentiful list and attractively priced again, please tell me how to select it and how to cook it.

My family likes pork.
A—Here are suggestions from home economists in the U.S. Department of Agriculture: The meat of high-quality pork should have firm, fine-textured lean and grayish-pink in color with firm white fat on the outside of the cut. Some fat should be well-distributed through the lean. Be sure your fresh pork is thoroughly cooked. A meat thermometer is helpful in providing a reliable method of testing thoroughness in cooking of pork roasts. When done, a fresh pork roast should have an internal temperature of 185 degrees, while a cured ham — whole or half — should reach 160 degrees. For a cured picnic shoulder, 170 degrees is desirable.

Q—What food value has pork?
A—Lots. Lean pork, like all lean meats, is an important source of top quality protein. It is an important source of iron and B vitamins (niacin and thiamine). A 3-ounce serving of cooked pork roast without bone cut. Some fat should be well-distributed through the lean. Be sure your fresh pork is thoroughly cooked. Money Too Often Decides Elections

"Can a girl from a little mining town in the West find happiness...?"

So began (and began and began) a popular radio soap opera of some years back. Today, many observers of the American scene are asking a similar question, but one whose answer is of vastly greater importance than the fate of a fictional heroine.

"Can a man of modest means find success in the field of politics?"

The problems of the heroine, it may be remembered, were occasioned by her marrying into an abundance of money. The problems of many a would-be mayor or governor or congressman or president are often insuperable because of an acute lack of it.

Rich men have always taken an active role in American politics, either in person or behind the scenes, and on balance it has been to the great good fortune of the Republic. Nevertheless, there was a time when money was an embarrassing hindrance and the ability to point to a log-cabin or middle-class background a distinct advantage to a politician.

Today, because of the fantastic costs of campaigning, great private wealth seems almost a prerequisite for a career in politics, at least on a national scale. The outstanding men of both parties—the Kennedys, Rockefellers, Johnsons, Romneys, Percys, Scrantons — either were moneyed to begin with or acquired it along the way.

Fortunately, money and ability are not necessarily mutually exclusive. In fact, possession of the former is usually a good indication of the latter. There are also plenty of exceptions to the rich man-elected man equation.

Politics is still an open profession. A man may not be able to enter it with a big splash, but if he has talent and can make himself valuable to his party he can work his way up from city and county into state and national prominence.

Yet even when parties and not individuals are considered, money too often appears to be an overriding factor in whether an election is won or lost. It simply takes money—and more of it all the time — to run a headquarters, pay for printing, buy broadcast time and finance candidates' expenses, even in a local contest.

It should not be so, but so far no one has come up with a solution that will put money in its proper place — and that place is at the very end of the list of qualifications a man must have before entering politics and at the very last of the factors that determine whether one party is voted into power and not another.

A GLANCE The Mature Parent

Woe Betide the Person Who Rejects Our Charm

By MURIEL LAWRENCE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Dear Mrs. Lawrence: I've always feared jealousy in other people and become too resentful at it. That is my problem with an in-law of mine. As the success of my marriage depends on my liking her, I need your help. She competes with me in everything. Lately, I have realized that I punish her by not liking her. I want to overcome this dislike and learn to love her.

ANSWER: You do, eh? Well, that's not what I want. Find I want is to know WHY you find this woman's "hostility" so alarming.

After all, the experience of another person's hostility is the most commonplace one there is, human beings being what they are. We're all on the receiving end of it much of the time. So why you find it so frightening should exceedingly interest you.

Do you by any chance think of yourself as the queen of charm? Because, of course, if we do require irresistible loveliness from ourselves, anyone's refusal to collapse at our feet in adoration would be most alarming.

And we would have to "punish" this resistance to the power of our sweetness exactly as a dictator feels obliged to punish anyone who resists his political power.

So the problem, you see, may not be this in-law's dislike of you at all—but your own craving for the power to "overcome" it by turning her into an admirer.

I'm not suggesting that you should enjoy her dislike. Close association with anyone's hostility can begin to arouse a good deal of responsive hostility in us. But unless we're hooked on that notion of ourselves as the queen of loveliness, we're not alarmed by our responsive rage either.

It just feels like another commonplace human experience to us. We accept it as reasonable instead of being as frightened of it as you seem to be of yours.

I am now going to ask you to should enjoy her dislike. Close association with anyone's hostility can begin to arouse a good deal of responsive hostility in us. But unless we're hooked on that notion of ourselves as the queen of loveliness, we're not alarmed by our responsive rage either.

Dear Mob: A girl has the right, before she accepts a date, to ask the boy what kind of evening he has in mind. And if she doesn't want to be a den mother to four guys she should say so.

Next time, make it plain that if Barry wants to drag a friend or two, the friends should bring dates. It's apparent that Barry would rather not be alone with you, just yet — so don't push it.

Dear Ann Landers: My husband retired last January and I am ready to go to work just to get out of the house and have a few hours to myself. When my friends told me that their husbands got to be a nuisance after they retired, I didn't believe them. I do now.

My husband is in good health and could do many things if he wanted to. But no, he'd rather dog my footsteps when I market, clean house and do the gardening. He even wants to come to my bridge club.

If I go where he can't go he looks hurt. Please help me. —R. R. R.

Dear R. R. R.: Suggest that your husband do the gardening while you do the marketing. Learn if there's a Golden Age Club in your city. He could find friends and interests there. Freedom is never free. You have to fight for it. And I hope you win because if you don't, you're sunk.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Dear Ann Landers: I say your family doctor gave you excellent advice. And now may I add a word?

Stop the crying and the begging and the pleading. Perhaps Rosalie's stubborn refusal to see a doctor is related to her hostility toward you. Get off her back and she will probably seek some outside help (which she desperately needs) when she gets to feeling it is "her" idea and not yours.

Apollo Is Next

The Gemini program, now triumphantly concluded with the flight of Gemini 12, has been a momentous success. Because of what has been learned during these orbital journeys of the two-man capsules, the United States space program is immeasurably further along toward achievement of its current major goal: a manned lunar flight.

The series of Gemini flights strongly reaffirmed that men can travel in space for a considerable period—more than enough time to get to the moon and back—without harm. They taught our space scientists and engineers much about the complex systems needed for life support and to operate vehicles, and about the procedures required to assure dependability and safety. The rendezvous and docking techniques, of such vital importance to the success of the lunar mission, were steadily improved in successive flights. So was the ability to move and work in space.

It was in this area that the 12th Gemini flight made its most important contribution to the state of the art. Experience with Gemini 11 had made it plain that unless something could be done to minimize the problem of fatigue, work in space would be greatly restricted. The "something," as Gemini 12 demonstrated so well, was to provide the spacewalking astronaut with restraints so that his body would not have to be constantly fighting to maintain equilibrium in the weightless environment.

American capability in space has taken giant strides since Alan Shepard made the first sub-orbital flight in 1961, since John Glenn became the first American to orbit the earth in 1962. The Mercury flights are history, and now so are the Gemini missions. Next comes Apollo, and the moon!

DUST FILTER

By WALTER B. HENDRICKSON JR.

PART 2: TESTS

The dust filter was devised by Dr. Hans J. P. von Ohain, Chief scientist and senior research leader in the energetic laboratory at the Aerospace Research (ARL) Laboratories of Wright - Patterson AFB, Ohio. ARL is one of the major OAR laboratories conducting basic research for the Air Force.

The filter is designed to prevent erosion of the compressor section, near the turbine's intake, and glass formation on the engine's hot surface. It removes dust particles and other trash from the air before they can be sucked into the engine.

ARL scientists mounted the dust filter on the air intake of an M-151 jeep fitted with a 70-horsepower gas turbine engine. This jet jeep was then flown to Yuma for the tests which began October 7.

The ARL project officer, on these tests, First Lt. Roger A. Miller, reported, "Although several dust-induced vehicle problems in systems other than the dust separator were encountered, the test program was completed and the dust separator worked perfectly."

Breakfast was a pretty quiet affair this wintry morning. Everybody was thinking about the big plans for the day that had gone amiss. And with nothing better than an old battered camping stove to fall back on the prospect of anything resembling a Thanksgiving dinner looked dim to say the least.

Finally Aunt Millie looked across the table at Sid and Uncle Ed. "There's no sense in moping around here all day feeling sorry for ourselves when we have everything needed for a Thanksgiving dinner right here in the house," she said with conviction. "I've prepared many a meal on that old range out in the spare kitchen, and there's plenty of dry wood in the shed."

The idea caught on and Sid and Uncle Ed soon had the woodbin against the wall filled to overflowing and a blazing separator worked perfectly."

All the studies were run on a test tract where the caliche was from 18 to 30 inches deep. The tract's dust is so fine that a special screen used to separate impurities in the final processing of women's facial powder could not catch and hold any of it. Lt. Miller pointed out that a regular M-151 jeep tested with conventional filters on the tract ran only 10 or 12 minutes before dust completely clogged the filters choking off air flow to the engine.

A Special Thanksgiving

By John Rankin

The family had planned a very special Thanksgiving, but a storm comes up, and the power goes off. Luckily they have an old camp stove in the attic, but still it's far from their plans.

A little later Sid and Uncle Ed settled down in the living room before a cozy log fire in the open fireplace. And as the logs crackled and the flames flickered and then burned brighter Sid exclaimed, "Hey, this is real fun. Just like the old days we read about in school where folks would put on a big spread at Thanksgiving and the neighbors would come for the day and everybody had a great time just being together."

"Yes, son, those were the days when folks shared their happiness and blessings with others," Uncle Ed declared with a wistful gesture. "But in later years we've somehow lost touch with our neighbors and I'm afraid we don't know any of them well enough to invite them to our home. Wish we could think of some-

Let's Laugh It Up A Little

By Christine Hemmrough

Do you like to laugh it up now and then? You do? Well, great! — here's a few block busters to help you.

Father: "Well, daughter, this should make you feel very grown up—your own telephone bill!"

Daughter: "Oh, Daddy, I've got to have that $500 fur jacket."

Father: "I find myself unwilling to accede to your request for such a bauble of extravagance."

Daughter: "I don't get it—"

Father: "That's what I said— you don't get it."

One girl to another: "Of course, I wouldn't say anything about her unless I could say something good—and, oh, boy, is this good!"

Pedestrian (to reckless driver): "What's the matter with you, are you blind?"

Reckless driver: "I hit you, didn't I?"

Hip chick (to drip date): "Since we've been going Dutch all evening, you kiss yourself and I'll kiss myself good-night."

Boss: "Any new orders while I was away?"

New employee: "Just one. Two guys ordered me to put up my hands while they carried off the safe."

An old gentleman was passing a drugstore, when suddenly a youth dashed out, took a flying leap into the air and fell in a heap in the gutter.

"Are you hurt?" the old gentleman asked.

"No, but I'd like to meet the louse who moved my motorcycle," the youth replied.

New freshman: "Hey, mom—the teacher says he rarely has a pupil with ability like mine—and boy is he glad."

Mother: "Susie, don't give the baby money to play with. He might put it in his mouth and it has germs on it."

Susie: "Not this money—it's my allowance and even germs couldn't live on it."

Dan: "Did you hear about the man who crossed a buzz-saw with a bell?"

Sam: "What did he get?"

Dan: "A hum dinger."

Linda: "What's all the talk about the new Beetle soap?"

Gail: "Oh — haven't you heard? You put it in the tub."

Prayer Poem

Thanks Be To God

By Mary Pence Claywell

Bless The Lord, O our souls, From Whom, all Blessings flow. As we thank Him for His mercies

To His children, here below: Though shadows, deep, have gathered, Still our souls are greatly touched,

For the Lord hath richly Blessed us, And has Given us . . . SO MUCH:

Not alone, for what we've gathered From the valley, hill and plain, Do we bow our heads to Praise Him,

As Thanksgiving . . . comes again: He has borne us up in sorrow, Kept us in His Tender Care . . . And has shared the "Viet Nam" burdens

Of our Soldiers . . . over there: Youth ones are quick to trust Him . . .

Through Him, hoping for release From this old world's wicked doings, And for VICTORY . . . for PEACE:

How we thank Thee, Gracious Father, For "The cover of Thy Wings"

Where the shot and shells are falling, And the bullets . . . whiz and sting! Thou alone, canst sift the nations,

Raise them up . . . or lay them low; Thou hath said, "Seek," and we'll find Thee, Dearest Lord . . . we're glad it's so:

Too, Thou sent the rain and sunshine, When our hearts were wont to faint, Loved us, even in our weakness . . .

And forgave us, our complaints: Bless us now, Lord, as we gather 'Round the family boards today, And wherever chair is "vacant" . . .

And a loved one, far away . . . Be Thou, Lord, a Silent Guest there, Let us lean upon Thy Breast . . . For Thine Healing in Thy Wings, Lord . . . And Thy PRESENCE . . .

The Alps are Europe's most popular and spectacular scenic attraction. Snow-covered granite peaks overlooking pastoral valleys extend 680 miles from southern France to the Danube plain.

And watch the Ringo."

Photographer (to young man): "It will make a much better picture if you put your hand on your father's shoulder."

Father: "It would be more natural if his hand were in my pocket."

Well, plb, plb, plb, that's all folks. (for this time.)

Let's Go Birding

Great Singer

By Emma Mae Leonhard

Song is wonderful at all times, and it is not prejudiced: it sings of both evil and of good, of beauty and of ugliness, of life and of death. May we call it the language of all mankind and of the soul?

On that November day gray twigs stretched silently overhead. There was no sun, no moon, no star—no cloud above, no earth below. A universe of fog enveloped us. The lake was so lost to us that we left it.

Through this thickening fog we drove to our favorite birding lane which leads to the Mauvaster Creek. Here we would be close to any birds that might be feeding upon the weeds along the fence row. As we sauntered along the narrow road, gray forms of birds flitted in the mist-enveloped hedge row. Some perched on the top of a bush or small tree, and when the fog temporarily dissipated in places, the large form of the Fox Sparrow, with its reddish brown tail and heavily spotted breast unfolded.

Then from the brushy covering came its loud, short song, a variable carol of clear, melodious notes. It began with a musical slur, then slid into a kind of whistling warble, and finally closed with some higher rounded notes. This Fox Sparrow's song was not challenging, but it was clean and seemed to express the following truth, far more than mere advice:

Yes, the fog is gray and thick; but the sunlight is only covered up — it will push the grayness back and bring us yellow warmth again. Yes, the seeds and fruits are dripping in cold moisture; but the hearts are just as palatable and wholesome — we are not hungry or thirsty. Yes, I am not alone; other Fox Sparrows are also living my song.

Then two other Fox Sparrows, according to their habit, flew up from the dense hedge and joined our great singer and his lovely, modest song. This chorus was too full of melody and warm confidence for human description, but it was full of truth. Almost miraculously the gray ceiling of the sky cracked; sunlight peered through the irregular openings; and the fog around us melted slowly into thin air.

These singers did not say, "I told you so!" However, as we hiked along in search of other birds, we silently confessed to ourselves, "And they were right!"

Beederfisch Family In Cass

By MRS. GRACE T. HOLMES
VIRGINIA—Among the older citizens of Virginia, some will remember Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Petefish and some of the recollections in this article, but the younger generation, who during their lifetime will enjoy the benefits of the fine Memorial Library, should know all they are able to learn about these pioneers who are the ancestors of Mrs. Maria Petefish Prather, whose loyalty and love of her family and early home is donating this library to the city of Virginia as her memorial to them.

The Virginia Library building on the northeast corner of the public square is progressing rapidly toward completion. It is a Memorial Library, donated by Mrs. Maria Petefish Prather, of Springfield, Ill., in memory of the Petefish family, pioneers in this city and county. Posterity will look upon it with pride.

Mrs. Prather has a baptismal certificate, dated 1784, the child's name, Johann Beederfisch, mother's name Maria Beederfisch, of Rockingham, Virginia. The Beederfisch (translated is Petefish), brothers were Hessian soldiers and came over from Germany and were paid to fight for the English in the Revolutionary war. Whether they deliberately deserted or were captured is not known, but they landed in Rockingham County, Virginia, and worked as apprentice farmers. They then came to Chicago and on to Morgan county. They settled in what is now Cass county and the land, which is still in the family name, was near the Bethlehem church and school, both buildings having been removed several years ago.

Samuel Petefish, born in 1824, and his wife, Nancy Maria Hudson Petefish, born in 1828, came into Virginia, (Ill.), and bought the property one block west of the county jail, which was a Presbyterian boarding school. The east side of the house was used for schoolrooms and Mrs. Prather remembers when she was a small child in the third grade, she and little friends used box starch for chalk and enjoyed writing on the blackboards which had been left in the room, then in use as a laundry.

The family traveled extensively and Mr. Petefish bought land wherever they went—Glen Woods Springs, in Colorado; a park near Dow City, Iowa, and a farm in Weldon, Iowa. They went to Yellowstone Park in a covered wagon. At that time they had two small sons who were with them on the trip and one boy died. They made a trip on the Missouri river and during the trip the boat caught fire. They were told it was full of explosives and to get off the boat and go back in the woods. In the excitement they lost the live boy but saved the body of the boy who had died. Mrs. Petefish always thought he, Henry, would come home because he was old enough to know his name, but in 1870 it was established he had drowned.

Mr. Petefish helped start several banks in Virginia, Rushville, Mt. Sterling and in Cass county. The Petefish, Skiles & Co. Bank is about to observe its 100th anniversary and has used the same name throughout the years. It was a private bank, then became a state bank and was located on the south corner of the west side of the public square. The building is now the property of Don Huff and is occupied by him as a barber shop. The Petefish, Skiles & Co. officials purchased the Farmer's National bank and the Centennial bank, both in Virginia. However, Petefish, Skiles & Co. is still operated by the same families and under the original name.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Petefish had a son, Louis Alexander Petefish, born in 1880 and a resident of Virginia during his early life. He was married to Miss Callie Strubling, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Strubling, of Virginia. They were the parents of a daughter, Mrs. Maria Petefish Prather whose generosity and devotion to her family has led her to donate this fine memorial library to the city of Virginia, home of her ancestors, her birthplace and where she spent her early life.

Mrs. Samuel Petefish was the owner of a square Steinway piano, bought in St. Louis and brought by boat to Beardstown. Their son, Louis Petefish, had it made into a table after his parents' deaths and it is now in the living room of the Illinois Presbyterian Home, in Springfield. Mr. and Mrs. Petefish were members of the Virginia Cumberland Presbyterian Church. Their home was always open to the young people of the church and many a happy social event was enjoyed there. They were "Uncle Sam" and "Aunt Nancy" to many. Mrs. Petefish was widowed before marrying Mr. Petefish, her husband and being a Mr. Chamberlain. They became the parents of a son, Edward Chamberlain, and a daughter, Molly, who became the wife of E.D.C. Woodward, of Virginia. These were the only two children of the family to live to maturity.

Mrs. Prather was widowed when their two sons were small. They were Robert Prather, Jr., and Louis Prather, who with their families, are residents of Springfield, Ill.

Mrs. Prather has wills from Rockingham, Virginia, bequeathing slaves, silver, feather beds, etc., and to a widow "The privilege of the apple orchard."

Another will concludes "One can pay back the loan of gold, but one dies forever in debt to those who are kind."

HUMORS of the day

November, 1866

A good-natured fellow, who was nearly eaten out of house and home by the constant visits of his friends, was one day complaining bitterly of his numerous visitors.

"Shure, and I'll tell you how to get rid of 'em," said an Irishman.

"Pray, how?"

"Lend money to the poor ones, and borrow money from the rich ones, and nuther sort will iver trouble you again."

A gentleman, having bought a pair of geese, asked the seller why he was so unwilling to dispose of one alone.

"Why, sir," said he, "they have been constant companions five and twenty years, and I had not the heart to part them."

From the Jacksonville Sentinel:

Two new family grocery stores have been opened on East State street. On South Main houses of this class are starting up as far from the square as the town brook.

The new restaurant and day-boarding house, kept by Mrs. Reinick, south of the square, is a tip-top place for the hungry epicure to call at. The lady proprietor is polite and attentive, and understands the higher branches of the cuisine art. Her pepper-pot lunch on last Friday was well patronized.

Jacksonville has latterly become noted as a profitable field for traveling exhibitions, political pay lectures, &c. A large aggregate amount of money is thus being taken off for which no substantial return is realized.

We learn from our farmers, that the corn crop of Morgan now being harvested, will be a good average yield.

Bazaar-Luncheon At Trinity Church Dec. 2-3

The Episcopal Church Women's Christmas Luncheon will be served in the church's Harris Hall on Saturday, Dec. 3rd. Hours are 11 a.m., 12 noon and 1 p.m. Miss Anne Bellatti is chairman for ticket distribution for the luncheon which is by reservation only.

Tickets may be obtained from Miss Bellatti, phone 243-1550, or from any ECW member.

The bazaar will be open on Friday evening, Dec. 2nd, from 7:30 to 9 p.m. Bazaar hours Saturday are from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

The picture at top left shows foods which will be featured at the Gourmet Table at the bazaar. They are being specially prepared in the kitchens of the women of the church. Pictured left are Mrs. Eugene Kohlbecker, chairman of the ECW ways and means committee; Miss Nina Kroush, chairman for this project and Miss Kathryn Slaten, committee member. Others on this committee are Mrs. Orin Kautz, Miss Mary Waller and Mrs. Harrison King.

The table will have a new specialty this year, authentic English plum puddings and also 12 hour Boston Baked Beans (frozen) and a variety of home-made candies and breads.

At top right Mrs. William Gross (left), chairman for the Saturday luncheon, discusses with Mrs. Erwin Foersterling, decorations co-chairman, the plans for the event. Miss Helen Dial is co-chairman with Mrs. Gross and Mrs. J. Weldon Smith, III, is co-chairman with Mrs. Foersterling.

Other members of the luncheon committee are Miss Mary Worthington, Mrs. Michael Biloz, Miss Barbara Rogers, Mrs. Harrison King, Mrs. Robert Evans, Miss Anne Bellatti, Miss Kathryn Slaten, Miss Constance Wilding, Mrs. Joe Patterson Smith, Mrs. Arthur Samore, Mrs. Ruth Curtis, Mrs. Lucius Shepard, Mrs. Eugene Kohlbecker, members of the E.Y.C. and the Canterbury Youth Guild.

Mrs. Charles Frank is in charge of the dining room and Mrs. James Orman for the a la carte dessert.

Books for children will again be featured and at center left three small children look the situation over. Left, Chris Thrash, Stephen Biloz and Monica Thrash. Co-chairmen for the book table are Mrs. Robert Sibert and Mrs. James Thrash. Serving on this committee are Mrs. C. J. Boatner, Mrs. Michael Biloz, Miss Frances Bartlett, Mrs. Joe Patterson Smith and Mrs. William Chalk.

Colorful notepaper, Christmas greeting folders, recipe and post-o-cards will be offered this year. At lower right are Mrs. John Bellatti, (left) President of the Episcopal church Women and Mrs. Thomas Auner admiring the selection. Mrs. Benjamin Montee is chairman for this project.

The Treasure Trove at the bazaar is always popular. Left Mrs. Warner Newcomb, left and Miss Anna Dewey Doan, look over some of the already accumulated items. Included in this display are mounted pictures many of the Florentine Nativity and others of Madonnas by artists from other European countries, an antique crystal cake stand, over 100 years old and lovely hand-made enamel jewelry, bowls and ash trays.

Miss Elizabeth Capps and Mrs. Frank Corrington are co-chairmen for the Treasurer's Trove. On their committee, other than Mrs. Newcomb and Miss Doan, are Mrs. Decker Godfrey, Mrs. Garland Middledorf and Mrs. Carrie Mackness.

All the old cliches of bridge are worth knowing but if you follow them blindly, you'll sleep in the streets. East's failure to play his king could not lose a trick for his side.

One of the oldest is "Cover an honor with an honor." Of course, there is a conspicuous exception to this rule. When your honor is in back of two consecutive lower honors you can and you should always consider waiting and covering the second one.

East didn't know about this exception. He put his king of hearts on dummy's jack. It turned out to be a disastrous mistake.

South won with his ace and played out the ace and king of trumps. Then he played his ace of diamonds, led a diamond to the king and ruffed a third diamond. His next play was a third trump. East won and led a club. West took his ace and queen but that was all.

The queen of hearts was an entry to dummy and South's losing heart was discarded on a low diamond.

If East had played low on the first heart South would never have been able to get to dummy's diamond. He would have lost a heart trick in addition to the one trump and two clubs that he could do nothing about.

Was it possible that East's failure to play the king could cost his side a trick? It was but only if West had decided to make the ridiculous lead of the nine from a five or six card suit headed by the ace. Otherwise,

Housewives' Boycotts Termed Unproductive, Emotional, Erroneous

ELKHART, Ind. — Housewives' protests over higher food prices are an unproductive, emotional response rooted in error, Robert C. Liebenow of Washington, D.C., said at the Elkhart County Farm-City Day Banquet Tuesday.

Liebenow, president of Corn Refiners Association, Inc., said the super-market boycotts single out the one area of the economy in which the producer of food is the most efficient and the least paid, and where food processors and distributors are, in general, very efficient.

Moreover, Liebenow continued, the profit margins of food processors and distributors feel the impact of competition much more sharply than in any other American industry.

"Food boycotts are spectacular and they get publicity," Liebenow said, "but they make it harder to have a stable and a prosperous agriculture in the United States, and they also make it harder to deal with the problem of world hunger. The world's future may well depend upon how well this matter is handled," Liebenow continued.

Food Cheaper

The corn refiners' executive pointed out that the consumer spends only about 18 percent of his disposable after-tax income for food today, compared to 26 percent two decades ago. He cited figures showing that the average U.S. factory worker can buy 3.2 pounds of beef to day compared to only 1.9 pounds in 1947-49; 5.4 gallons in milk compared to 3.4 gallons in 1947-49; and 11 cans of peas compared to only six two decades ago.

Liebenow said the price comparison is equally favorable over a shorter period. "A factory worker could buy 12.4 loaves of bread this past summer compared to 11.1 loaves in

Illinois Farm OUTLOOK

HOG PRICES TO REFLECT UNUSUAL CONDITIONS

Hog prices will be subject to unusual influences during the next few weeks.

The market supply of hogs will be larger than it was a year ago, but still smaller than in most other years. Supplies of competitive meats will be at or near record levels. Consumers will have more money than ever before, but there's no telling how much they will be willing to spend for pork.

Prospective Market Supplies Are Larger. You may remember the Pig Crop Report issued by the USDA last September. It showed that farmers in 10 leading states had 9 percent more hogs weighing 60 to 180 pounds on September 1 than they had the year before. This report indicates that market receipts will exceed last year's levels by 8 to 10 percent during the next three or four months.

This prospect isn't too bad, however. Market receipts during November, December and January last year were nearly 20 percent less than the average of the three previous years. Add 10 percent to the receipts of a year ago, and the market supply will still be more than 10 percent short of the three-year average.

More Beef and Poultry Is Expected. The number of cattle on feed October 1 was up 8 percent from the year before. Furthermore, many farmers have been feeding their cattle to heavier weights than they did last year. Thus it appears that there will be an abundance of beef to compete for the consumer's dollars during the next several weeks.

Turkeys also will be strong competitors, especially around Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Year's. Farmers are producing about 116 million turkeys this year, 11 percent more than last year. One turkey often makes three or four meals for a family.

During the next two months, broiler supplies are expected to run 10 to 12 percent above last year. Broiler production will total over 45 million birds in most weeks.

Consumer Demand for Meat Is Uncertain. Consumer buying power is at an all-time high. Almost everyone who is willing and able to work has a job. The flow of personal income is running about 8 percent higher than it was a year ago.

Some families, however, are becoming more conservative in their spending. In many cities housewives are protesting what they view as "the high cost of food." Even those who do not join any protest group may trim their spending for meat.

Any slowing-down of pork buying would depress hog prices a few days later.

There is some evidence that many families are passing up luxury items in favor of economy models. If this practice extends to purchases of meat, pork might gain at the expense of beef.

Since the supply of pork in prospect for the late fall and winter is about halfway between the levels of one and two years ago, perhaps prices will also fall to the halfway level. That would be about $21.50 for barrows and gilts at central markets.

At The IAA Convention

One of the photographers of the Illinois Agricultural association publicity section, which is directed by Jim Tippett, took this photo at the Sherman House in Chicago last week, and Jim sent it down.

Tippett, pretty well known here and a graduate of Illinois College, writes: "Hello to Jacksonville and Morgan county."

LAW on the farm

TRESPASSING HUNTERS

Now that the hunting season is here, farmers are concerned about their rights and duties regarding people who hunt on their land.

No one has a right to hunt on property without the permission of the owner or tenant. If the owner is not the operator and the land is leased, the hunter must obtain permission of the tenant. Even the landlord himself may not hunt on his rented farms without permission from the tenants, unless he has reserved this right in the lease.

One who hunts without permission may be held liable for damages for trespassing. This means that the occupant of the land may recover money damages for any harm caused by the trespasser, whether it be an animal killed, livestock frightened or crops or fences trampled down. And the trespasser may be liable even though the property is not fenced or posted.

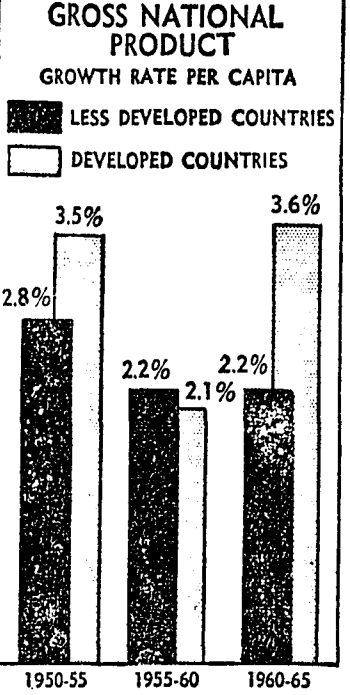

In addition, the trespasser may be held criminally liable if he enters or remains on land after receiving notice from the owner or tenant that such entry is forbidden. A person has received the required notice if he has been notified personally, either orally or in writing, or if a printed or written notice forbidding such entry has been conspicuously posted at the main entrance to the land.

If the property is properly posted, the trespasser may be found guilty of violating this Illinois law even though he did not see the sign. The penalty is a fine of not more than $100 or imprisonment not exceeding 10 days. This criminal law strengthens the law of trespass and gives farmers considerably more protection from negligent hunters than they would have if only a civil remedy for damages were provided.

A person who hunts on land with proper consent is called a "licensee." His "license" may be revoked anytime and for any reason the owner or tenant wants to do so. If the hunter's license is revoked, he may be held liable as a trespasser if he refuses to leave. Even though a person has permission to hunt, he is still liable for any damages caused on the property by his negligence.

A farmer is not liable for any injuries to a hunter on his premises unless he himself is negligent or unless he fails to warn the hunter of a particularly dangerous animal or condition on the land. He is not required to make the premises safe. But he must give warning of concealed conditions or activities on his land that he knows about. If hunters are already on the premises, the farmer should inform other hunters of this fact when they obtain permission to hunt.

Special To Journal Courier — BLOXI, Miss. — Robert Lienberger, Route 1, Petersburg, has been recognized by A. O. Smith Harvestore Products, Inc. as the number one seller of Harvestore Products in the world.

Lienberger's honor of Top Volume Salesman for the past year came during the firm's annual Dealer Conference in Bloxi, Miss. last week. Arthur D. Hyde, president of A. O. Smith Harvestore Products, Inc., congratulated Lienberger and noted that he had ranked second in worldwide standings the year before.

His career sales since he began selling Harvestore Products total nearly $2-million now. Lienberger has been a member of the Harvestore Hall of Fame for outstanding salesmen since 1964.

Lienberger's territory includes Sangamon, Menard, Morgan, Cass, Scott, and Mason. He is a sales representative of Harper & Sauder, Inc., the Harvestore Products dealer in Eureka, Illinois.

Editor's Note:

Bob is the man responsible for all those royal blue silos you see around you when you get out in the county.

Affiliates Of IAA Report Banner Year

The past year was a year of growth for companies affiliated with the Illinois Agricultural Association (state-wide Farm Bureau).

Combined 1966 business of the 12 state-wide firms and FS Services, Inc., (an affiliate of the IAA, the Iowa Farm Bureau Federation, and Wisconsin Farm Bureau Federation) totaled $625,655,582, an increase of $26,160,407 over 1965. Business done in Illinois by FS Services, Inc., totaled $112,396,000 for 1966 compared with $96,933,246 for the preceding year.

These affiliated companies are state-wide in their operations and carry on their business, for the most part, through local member companies which serve farmer patrons. The total of the dividends and patronage refunds of these state-wide companies to their local member associations is $15,508,532. The combined dividends and refunds that will be paid by these local associations to their patrons will be substantially higher.

In addition to FS Services, the 12 state-wide firms affiliated with the IAA are: Country Life Insurance Company, Illinois Agricultural Holding Co., Country Mutual Insurance Company, Country Casualty Insurance Company, Illinois Farm Bureau Serum Association, Illinois Agricultural Auditing Association, Illinois Grain Corporation, Interstate Producers Livestock Association, Prairie Farms Dairy, Inc., Illinois Milk Producers Association, Quality Vegetable Growers Association, and Agricultural Business Service Company.

On a combined basis, the business of these companies in 1966 more than doubled the amount of business in 1955. The combined total of business of the firms in 1966 was $224,200,060 compared with $625,655,582 this year.

Dividends and patronage refunds of the firms in 1966 totaled $8,364,395, compared to $15,508,532 returns this year.

FIGURES ABOUT
FOOD AND PEOPLE

While Americans worry about over-eating, much of the world's population suffers from hunger and malnutrition.

During the first 1500 years of the Christian era world population doubled. In the next 400 years it tripled. In only 66 years of this century world population has almost doubled again and is expected to reach 6 billion by the year 2000. That's double the present world population of 3 billion.

The big population explosion was touched off by introduction of pesticides and miracle drugs. More infants survived the hazardous early years and more adults won a longer life expectancy.

World population is currently increasing at a rate of 3% per year, but world food production is being increased by only 1 1/2% per year.

FROM THE CORN CRIB

A 6-year-old came rushing home from school and was just filled up with good news. She had to tell her mother all about her new boy friend.

"He's so smart," she said. "He just knows all about the first grade."

"How is that? the mother asked.

"He was there last year," replied the daughter.

NINETY-THREE AT WHITE HALL LIONS
FARMERS NIGHT

WHITE HALL — The Lions Club annual Farmers' Night was observed Nov. 16 with a dinner served at the United Presbyterian Church at 6:30 by ladies of the church.

Ninety three were in attendance, including many farmers from the area. The dinner being tendered them in reciprocation for their help in the Lions Club fall sale. A vocal trio of M. Patterson, Beardstown, Kenneth Christison, Jacksonville, and Charles Teinacher, Carrollton, presented several selections with guitar accompaniment.

Phillip Hoppins, North Greene High School varsity coach, was guest speaker, giving an interesting resume of the 1966 Spartans, with highlights along their path to the 1966 Illinois Valley Conference Championship.

BEARDSTOWN MAN IS HONORED AT FAREWELL DINNER

BEARDSTOWN — Ralph M. Wessel, 609 Washington street, has resigned his position at the Beardstown Mills, where he had been employed the past 13 years, and will begin a new career Monday with the Central Illinois Public Service company in Springfield.

He is to be employed in the general offices in the IBM department, which will include work similar to that in which he was engaged at the mill.

Wessel, who graduated here in 1946, is a native Beardstownian. He is married to the former Betty Hixon and they have two sons.

At the present Mr. Wessel plans to commute between Beardstown and Springfield.

The Wessels were honored at a farewell dinner Wednesday night at the Virginia Country club. Fellow employees were in attendance.

Since the 1950's, farm productivity has zoomed a spectacular 7.7 percent a year, the United States Department of Agriculture reports.

THANKSGIVING SERVICES SET AT BLUFFS CHURCH

BLUFFS — The Community Thanksgiving service in Bluffs will be held at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday at the Bluffs Methodist church, in the absence of a resident Lutheran pastor, it was decided to secure a guest speaker. Dr. Frank Nestler, pastor of Grace Methodist church, Jacksonville, will deliver the Thanksgiving message. Special music is being arranged.

Rev. M. D. Goldsborough is the host pastor.

Farms have declined steadily in number since the 1930's; they now total only about 3,400,000.

Lawless To Show Hogs In Chicago

CHICAGO — Morgan county is among the many Illinois counties from which entries have been received for the 1966 International Live Stock Exposition, to be held here November 25 to December 3, the show management reports.

Joseph Lawless, Jr., of near Woodson, has listed entries for the Chester White swine competitions of the Chicago show which will celebrate its 67th anniversary as the country's largest stock show. It will be held here in the 13-acre International Amphitheatre at the Chicago Stock Yards.

ASHLAND LIONS CORN CARNIVAL TO BE DEC. 10

Plowland & Meadow

BRIMFUL and running over By Jim Brim

I'd like to quote from President George Washington's first Thanksgiving proclamation which was issued in 1789. What he said then is quite appropriate today.

"And also that we may then unite in most humbly offering our prayers and supplications to the great Lord and Ruler of Nations, and beseech Him to pardon our national transgressions, to enable us all, whether in public or private stations, to perform our several and relative duties properly and punctually; to render our National Government a blessing to all the people by constantly being a government of wise, just and constitutional laws, discreetly and faithfully executed and obeyed; to protect and guide all sovereigns and nations (especially such as have shown kindness to us), and to bless them with good governments, peace and concord; to promote the knowledge and practice of religion and virtue, and the increase of science among us; and generally to grant unto all mankind such a degree of temporal prosperity as He alone knows best."

I believe we would do well to think on President Washington's words not only at Thanksgiving time but through the year.

Now you should . . .
... eat pumpkin pie.
... take stock of your blessings.
... drive carefully.
... provide water for your livestock.
... top out hogs.
... watch your step.
If you haven't already done so order your license plates — 1967 is closer than you think.

Christmas and New Year's will soon be here. Seems Christmas shopping soon will be in full swing. Prices seem higher — transportation more difficult — you may have some difficulty in getting what you want.

Remember that no matter how bad things may seem there are others in worse shape. Do you remember this quotation? I had no shoes and I complained until I met a man who had no feet.

A welfare state is one run for the benefit of everyone — except the taxpayer.

Portuguese Ag Chiefs To Visit Illinois

Three Portuguese officials, key figures in the approval of livestock imports to Portugal, will be in Illinois over the Thanksgiving weekend to inspect cattle.

Arriving in Chicago November 23 will be: Dr. Antonio Lopez Riberio, Director of Agricultural Extension; Professor Eugenio Antunes Tropa, Director General of Veterinary Services; and Joaquin da Silva, Director of the National Livestock Station of Portugal. The officials are on the staff of the Portuguese director of agriculture. They will be accompanied to Illinois by Larry Thomasson, U.S. agricultural attache stationed at Lisbon.

Illinois is one of six states to be visited by the officials. The purpose of their visit is to inspect the quality and price of dairy and beef cattle and to ultimately determine in which U.S. areas Portuguese livestock producers might purchase breeding stock. In order to assure the quality necessary for their livestock programs, the purchase of "foreign" breeding animals by Portuguese farmers requires approval of the Portuguese government, according to Dwight Davis, associate secretary of marketing of the Illinois Agricultural Association, who will serve as host for the Portuguese visitors in Illinois.

The itinerary in Illinois includes a visit to the Eugene Kline farm at El Paso, to see Hereford beef cattle; an inspection of Angus cattle at the Mackinaw farm of William J. Kuh-

Fire Destroys Summer Kitchen Of Brown Home

MT. STERLING — A summer kitchen at the Fritz home, located north of Mt. Sterling, was destroyed by fire Wednesday night.

The Mt. Sterling Volunteer Fire Department responded to the call at the residence on the Camden blacktop road but were unable to save the structure. The fire was at 7:15 in the evening.

Mt. Sterling News

New officers elected and installed at the Nov. 15th meeting at the Brown County 4-H Federation include: president, Barbara Dormire; vice president, Tom Salrin; secretary, Ann Bordenkircher; treasurer, Karen Kunkel; reporter, Rose Marie Salrin; recreation chairman, Marvin Meservey and refreshment chairman, Janice Behmyer.

Grover Baldwin is a patient at Schmitt hospital in Beardstown. Elmer Thompson has returned to his home here from Culbertson hospital in Rushville.

Tutorial Program Discussed Before Soroptimist Club

The current tutorial program at MacMurray College and its relationship to students in District 117 schools constituted the program at the dinner meeting Nov. 14th for members of the Soroptimist club of Jacksonville held at Hamilton's restaurant.

The meeting was conducted by the president, Lucille Lair, and Hazel Graves, chairman of the publicity committee, presented the guest speakers, Mrs. Lelia Wright, secretary of alumnae affairs at MacMurray College and Miss Claire Thompson, junior year student at the college who heads the local program. The college students engaged in the program help tutor students, most of whom are in the junior high level, to obtain scholastic average level for their respective class, and to fit into normal elementary school life.

Following the initial talk a question and answer period provided additional interesting information about the rewarding program.

Members of the club are currently selling the southern fruit cakes, popular at holiday time and a favorite with all buyers during the six years members have featured the sale.

The next meeting of the club will be Nov. 28th at the Meline Nursing Home where Emily Meline, Willa Phillips and Hazel Graves will serve as hostesses.

Junior Club Makes First Merit Award Presentation

The first Merit Award, presented by the Jacksonville Junior Woman's Club, was given Mrs. James Christofferson at the group's dinner meeting November 10th at the Blackhawk.

The honor to Mrs. Christofferson resulted from recommendation by a committee chairman or co-chairmen of a member who has made an outstanding contribution to that committee's activity and to the club.

Mrs. Christofferson is shown at the right in the top right picture receiving the honor from the club president, Mrs. Gordon May.

Beerup, Jr., chairman for the sale of charm bracelets which benefits the CARE project. She delivered those bracelets ordered to date at the meeting and announced more have been ordered and will be available at the December meeting.

The lower picture shows the students receiving honors in the art contest sponsored by the club for local students which results in two winners receiving scholarships to attend classes at the Strawn Art Gallery in this city.

Leinbach, member of the art scholarship committee; Keith Riggs and Bob Bills, both from Jonathan Turner school. Susan Irlam and Keith Riggs are winners and the other students alternates.

The program for the evening was a skit, "Overtones," with Mrs. James Christofferson, program chairman, assisted by Mrs. William Chalk, Mrs. Larry Flynn and Mrs. Ronald Gano. The well presented program regarded the conflicts of one's inner-self.

The meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. Gordon May. Mrs. Raymond Day reported the American home and citizenship committee arranged for a car to be in the Veterans Day Parade Nov. 11th. Her committee will also sponsor help for a family at Christmas time. Club members were reminded to take canned goods to the December meeting.

Mrs. William Oldenettel announced that rather than buying gifts for youths at Boys Town near Grafton the committee will make deposits to the boy's individual bank accounts and send canned fruit and fruit juices to the Home.

Mrs. Willard Hickox reported on the ticket sale for the Ozark Opry the club sponsored in the city Nov. 11th and which played to a full house at the ISD auditorium.

Mrs. Jerry Brant, Brain Research project chairman, announced candy for this project, is expected soon and will be distributed.

Mrs. Russell Peebles reminded members to turn in to her names of prospective members for the club. The committee plans to entertain all prospective members early in January.

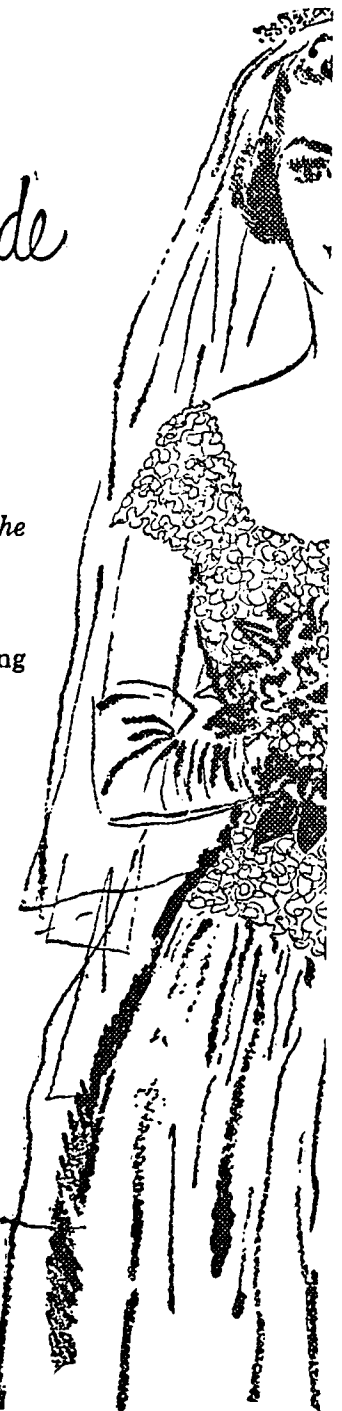

The December meeting will be at 6:30 p.m. on the 8th at the Blackhawk. The program will be provided by the public welfare committee. Members of the club are to take a dollar-value gift, appropriate for a woman, to the meeting. Mrs. Raymond Coker explains the program will include helps and hints on gift wrapping. A prize will be awarded for the best wrapped gift. The wrapped articles will be taken to the Jacksonville State Hospital for distribution to the forgotten patients at Christmas.

During the business meeting the club approved a donation to the Goodwill Tree at the Elliott State Bank.

One Sentenced After Probation Hearings Friday

One defendant was sentenced and a second admitted to a year's probation during hearings before Magistrate Paul Fenstermaker Friday morning.

Harold Hankins, 18, of Rushville was sentenced to serve nine months at Vandalia state penal farm after being denied probation. He was charged with the October 31 theft of a car in Jacksonville which was later recovered in Oklahoma. His plea of guilty was heard earlier.

William D. Conover, 22, of 1302 East Railroad was admitted to a year's probation and fined $400 and court costs which should be paid within six months. Conover earlier entered a plea of guilty and asked probation on a charge of driving while under the influence of liquor.

Terms of the probation include no drinking of alcohol or entering a place where liquor is served. His driver's license was suspended by the secretary of state for a period of one year upon his plea of guilty.

Probation officer Robert Wallace presented the reports on the two defendants before the court Friday.

Defendant Fined In Court Friday

Magistrate Paul Fenstermaker levied a fine of $400 and court costs after turning down a motion for probation for a 22-year-old Jacksonville young man Friday afternoon.

Charles Duane McKinney, 22, of 544 Brooklyn had been sentenced Friday morning to serve nine months at the Vandalia State penal farm. Public Defender Larry J. Flynn petitioned the court Friday afternoon to reconsider the sentence since McKinney was convicted during a bench trial of illegal transportation of liquor.

The court vacated the morning sentence and levied a fine of $400 and court costs. McKinney told the court he was without funds to pay the fine and was remanded to the custody of the sheriff to lay-out the fine at the rate of $5 per day or until such time as he is able to pay the fine.

McKinney was charged with the original offense and entered a plea of innocent. He was found guilty after a trial without a jury.

State's Attorney Charles J. Ryan represented the people during the court sessions.

Rev. Schnake, Former Area Resident, Dies

ARENZVILLE — Relatives have been notified of the death of Reverend Albert Henry Schnake, 67, of St. Cloud, Minn.

Reverend Schnake, a native of the Arenzville area, was ordained at St. Peter's Lutheran church. He served parishes in El Paso, Tex. and Villa Park, Ill. and was a Navy chaplain serving in the Pacific theater during World War Two. He was institutional chaplain for the state of Ohio for several years and for the past 10 years had been chaplain at the Veterans' Mental hospital in St. Cloud.

He is survived by his widow, Helen and three brothers: Fred, Paul and Edwin, all of Beardstown.

Funeral services will be held in St. Cloud Monday.

Births

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Becker of Kampsville became the parents of a son Wednesday evening at Boyd hospital in Carrollton.

Mr. and Mrs. Keith Artholony are the parents of a daughter born Wednesday morning at St. John's hospital in Springfield.

Mrs. Artholony is the former Barbara Wiseman, daughter of Mrs. Eileen Wiseman of Chandler.

Mr. and Mrs. James Whiteside of Springfield became parents of a daughter born Friday morning at St. John's hospital in that city.

Mrs. Whiteside is the former Andrea Surratt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Surratt of Meredosia and Mr. Whiteside is the son of Herbert Whiteside of Meredosia. This is the couple's first child.

McKENDREE WINS, 90-80 LEBANON, Ill. (AP) — McKendree College jumped to an early lead Friday on its way to 90-80 season-opener basketball victory over Westminster College of Fulton, Mo.

Forward Vic Eskra led the McKendree attack with 25 points while guard Denny Birdsong dumped in 21 for Westminster.
